Resolutions of Faith was featured in a discussion with readers from the Self Indulgence Book Community. I spent time discussing questions and answers with readers. It was a very enjoyable experience, and readers praised both the writing of my co-author, "H," and mine. Resolutions of Faith serves as a gentle companion for anyone seeking spiritual resilience in a complicated world.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE THE WEIGHT WITHIN

So much is said about the weight of the world upon one's shoulders. Overwhelmed, overworked, and heavily burdened, we navigate our lives, doing our best to manage the complexities of an overstimulated existence. As we look around, often dissatisfied and coveting more, we must ask ourselves: What are we really working for? More possessions that eventually collect dust in the corner or deteriorate due to the elements?

But is the pressure of this burden truly external? Yes, financial pressures exist, of course. Yet, the crippling weight often comes from within. The consequences of our actions are not merely reactions to external factors; rather, they stem from internal struggles that can lead to health issues that cripple us.

How do we reach a point where our health suffers due to our actions? Whether driven by lust, greed, gluttony, or envy, these powerful emotions can motivate us to engage in behaviors that lead to affliction, addiction, and sin. Without a guiding force in our lives, we may blindly follow our instincts for instant gratification, neglecting to consider the consequences.

When we succumb to temptation and chase the thrill without thoughtful reflection, we tend to grab whatever we can, accumulate more, and add additional burdens without considering the weight we are taking on.

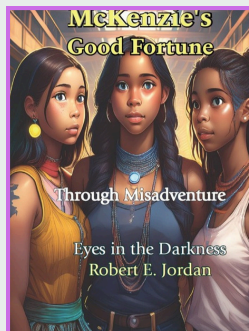

This thoughtful consideration can be likened to prayer. Wouldn't it be wiser to pray about our desires before succumbing to temptation? The Holy Spirit is within us to guide us in these matters, leading us to follow The Way. By engaging in prayer and contemplation, we can differentiate between what we truly need and what we merely want—focusing on necessities rather than luxuries. This practice can help lighten our burdens and set us on the path intended for us.

New Writing Project

Butch & Chance: Covered by Grace is a new teen novella series following an adventurous boy, his loyal dog, and the Holy Spirit who watches over every step they take. Their days are filled with bold adventures, wild shenanigans, and unexpected, grace-covered moments. Join Butch and Chance as they tumble into precarious situations — some hilarious, some dangerous, all unforgettable — where the only true rescue comes from the One who never fails to show up.

I expect the release date to be November 1st, 2026!

Exciting News!
