

Lytton First Nation

Employment Opportunity

Health Care Aide

Summary of Duties:

LFN Health is currently seeking a Health Care Aide. The position is available as either a full-time or part-time position. This role involves providing personal care, medication reminders, and support with daily activities. Responsibilities also include light housekeeping, transportation to appointments, emotional support, as well as medical care such as palliative, wound care or mobility assistance. This role requires monitoring clients' health, maintaining accurate records, coordinating care, and staying current with the required training. Strong communication skills and a commitment to client well-being are essential.

Specific Responsibilities

- Assist with Personal Care i.e. Bathing, SAIL Exercises
- Medication reminders and pick up if requested by the client
- Administrative Tasks - Maintain client records, advocate for clients, manage case coordination, and keep up with training.
- Create written reports to the supervisor of any changes noticed in the clients
- Provide palliative care, wound care, and mobility assistance when needed
- Take patients' blood pressure, temperature and pulse
- Support clients emotional and social wellbeing with Wellness Visits or assisting with social events in the community
- Support clients with pick up and drop off for local medical appointments. May need to support drivers with clients for out-of-town appointments

Other Responsibilities

- Assist client with booking health care services i.e. Foot Care, Hearing Clinics, Eye Clinics
- Support clients by providing light housekeeping if under medical care
- Establishing linkages- liaison with other resources and agencies
- Other duties as requested

Skills Required and Other Qualifications

- Health Care Aide Training or Certification or in a related field
- Verbal and written communication
- Technology skills
- Valid BC Driver's License
- First Aide Certificate with CPR

Open until Filled

Apply with cover letter, resume, and current references to:

Email: jobs@lfn.band

In person: drop off at the LFN band office