

Dr. Robison currently serves as the co-owner of an Orthopedic, Sports Medicine Out-patient physical therapy practice servicing the greater DC area. Dr. Robison also provides medical coverage for both Paralympic and Olympic athletes for Team USA. She has worked among some of USA's finest athletes as well as with the military in Wounded Warrior Project. Dr. Robison prides herself on providing exceptional skilled manual therapy to all of your patients.

Dr. Robison's clinical background includes a Bachelor in Science, Athletic Training from the University of Central Missouri as well as receiving her Doctor of Physical Therapy from Elon University. Dr. Robison has had extensive specialization education in the areas of Fellowship training from the American Academy of Orthopaedic Manual Physical Therapy (AAOMPT), Certified Orthopaedic Manipulative Therapist (COMT-NAIOMT), Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialty (CSCS - NSCA), Exercise Physiologist Certification (EP-C - ACSM), Trigger Point Dry Needling (Kinetacore), Certified in Functional Movement Screens, Women's Health and Pelvic Floor Rehab (Herman and Wallace).

Dr. Robison serves on the Scientific Advisory Board Member of Nutrility, Inc. and IMTH. Dr. Robison serves as an advisor to Immgenuity Inc. Dr. Robison is a member of the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) and the American Academy of Orthopedic Manual Physical Therapists (AAOMPT).