Modern Farmhouse

Designed for Future Generations

This is a rendering of a home we are currently building for our clients near Stephenville, Texas. They are building this home for the future generations of their family on their ranch. Every family needs a sense of "Home". This is it for their family.

Lake Home in the Heart of Texas

We built this luxurious home in the heart of Texas for a large family. It has stunning lake views and plenty of space for their family gatherings when all the kids come home. The home is flooded natural sunlight!

They had such a beautiful vision for how they wanted to live and entertain in their home. All exterior and interior stone work was finished with a German Schmeier to give an old world feeling.

This lake view from the back of this home is amazing.

This Kitchen is pure modern elegance.

No details were missed. A drop zone and pet station at a central location, as well as, a bunk room for those big family gatherings.

The cozy living area was designed for comfort and relaxation while enjoying the view of the lake through 24' wide sliding doors.

Texas Ranch

Built for Family Living

This Texas Ranch Home overlooks acres of rolling hills and pastures. It features an open kitchen, large bedrooms and closets, with a lovely corner Living Room fireplace, perfect for winter. This home has a lot of heart and is perfect for a growing family! We built this home for a family with a toddler and a new baby. They are truly enjoying all their space.

Texas Barndominium

Built for Empty Nesters

The Living and Kitchen are ready for family gatherings or quiet evenings at home with lovely exterior views.

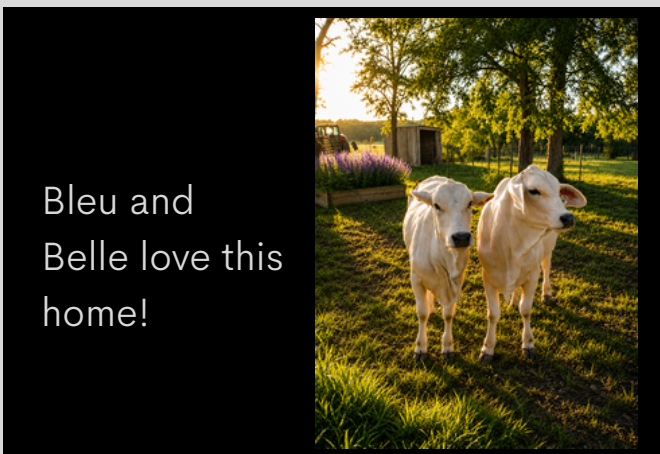

This home was built new Texas residents that moved here from Georgia. We are so glad to have them! They have settled right into their new Texas Life!!

Pantry, Mud Room, and Laundry Room in one convenient location.

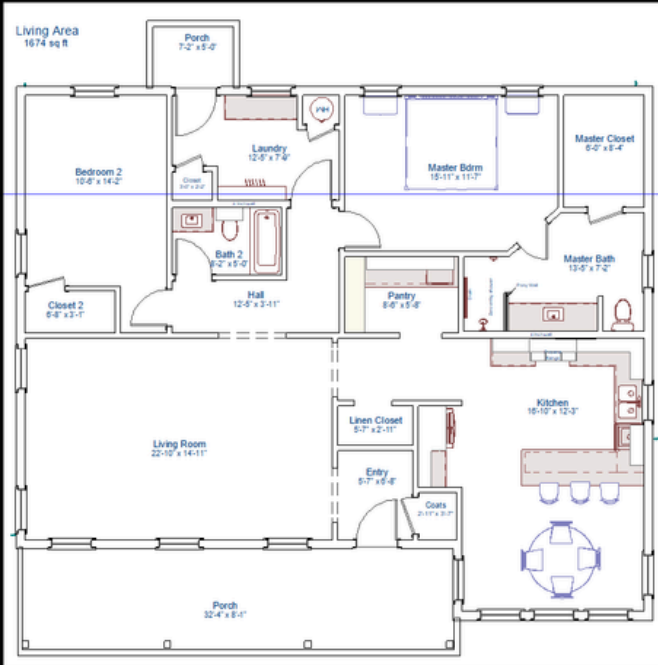

This master bath was designed for simplicity and elegance.

Art Deco

Absolutely love the clients' vision for this bathroom renovation created just for their teenage daughters. It turned out gorgeous. They sourced their own antique dresser to use for the sink vanity. We worked with them and our stone fabricator to get the exact look and shape they wanted for the countertop.

We work with you and our suppliers to ensure everything is exactly how you envisioned your home.

Your home should be uniquely yours!

Another example of this is the tub retreat. We started the project with this area as a shower. After framing, they came to us and wanted to change to a spa tub/shower combo. Their daughters wanted the option to take bubble baths. No problem, we went back to the design board and this was the result.

It has such a relaxing luxurious vibe!

Phase 1 for this client: RV Garage

We designed this RV Garage with an airplane hangar door to ensure stability during our windy Texas storms and the clean lines complement the Board and Batten Metal Siding. Our clients are currently traveling most of the year and they need a place to rest and rejuvenate when they are home on their ranch in Texas.

This will be the first phase of their build project. The second phase is their Scandanavian inspired home. We work with all of our clients to create an overall plan that works with how they want to live and we can do the same thing for you and your family!

Your Well House can be an extension of your home's style

Why have a plain utilitarian plain looking well house, when you can have some fun with it!

This well house is located in the front of our clients' home. They inherited this unfortunate well house location when they bought the property. He didn't mind, but she didn't want to look out her windows every day and see an "ugly" well house. I'm with her on this. So, we designed something that makes her smile every time she looks out her windows!!
