

Parent of a Minor Custody Status

 indicates a required field*

 The custody status of my child is as follows (check one):

- Both biological (or adoption completed) parents live within the same household and there are no court sanctioned custody concerns.
- Biological (or adoption completed) parents live in separate households and parents have agreed to custody terms without court decision (there are NO custody documents). Both parents will be required to sign Treatment Authorization in order to engage in mental health counseling.
- Biological (or adoption completed) parents live in separate households and there ARE court documents regarding parental custody and parental right to enlist child in treatment. These documents will need to be furnished by custodial parent or both parents will be required to sign Permission for Treatment.

If biological (or adoption completed) parents are unmarried and there are no court custody documents regarding custodial rights, please enter name, phone number, and email of other parent here. We will contact second parent for signature on Treatment Authorization form (this is in accordance with Ohio state law):
