CANADIAN NURSERY LANDSCAPE ASSOCIATION

Canadian Nursery Landscape Association
Association Canadienne des Pépiniéristes et des Paysagistes

The purpose of CNLA is to foster relationships and alliances, provide member certification and help its members function more effectively.

HISTORY

The Association dates to 1922 with the formation of the Eastern Canada Nurserymen's Association, with members mainly from Quebec and Ontario. Gradual expansion of the nursery industry over the years resulted in the formation of seven regional associations by 1964.

Each regional association was represented on the Board of Directors of the Canadian Nursery Trades Association (CNTA). CNTA was registered in 1968.

In 1972, the CNTA office was established in Ottawa. In 1973, it adopted the name Landscape/Paysage Canada for its brevity and easy bilingual connotation, more adequately representing the scope of the industry. Then in 1978, CNTA was relocated to the Landscape Ontario office in Mississauga, Ontario.

In 1998, CNTA officially changed its name to the Canadian Nursery Landscape Association (CNLA), to more accurately reflect the nature of its members. CNLA has an official constitution and is incorporated under the laws of The Canadian Corporations Act.

MISSION

CNLA, with the Provincial Associations, will develop programs, undertake initiatives, and form alliances to achieve sustainable prosperity for members and stakeholders.

CERTIFICATION

RED SEAL PROGRAM

The Red Seal program was established to provide greater mobility across Canada for skilled workers. Successful completion of the program is represented by the Red Seal Endorsement, which is a recognized standard across Canada and protected in the Nova Scotia Apprenticeship and Trades Qualifications Act for exclusive use by completed apprentices and skilled tradespersons who have passed the Red Seal exam.

Nationally recognized, the Red Seal Endorsement (RSE) enables tradespersons to work anywhere in Canada without further training or examination. As well, employers look to the RSE as an indication of skills and competency. "RSE" can be used on business cards and signatures.

We can therefore confirm that the "Red Seal" is an endorsement (a complement to existing certification) that individuals receive on their provincial/territorial trade certificates.

CERTIFICATION NOVA SCOTIA APPRENTICESHIP AGENCY

NOVA SCOTIA APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAM

If you are an employer that relies on skilled workers, apprenticeship is one of the best investments you can make. Not only is it a proven way to develop the right talent for your workplace, but it also contributes to the success of your business. There are lots of benefits that come with hiring an apprentice.

Meet your unique skills needs.

As apprentices work and learn on the job, they not only develop their skill, but they also get to know your business. They become highly specialized in your processes, equipment, and customers. Many employers find that those who started as apprentices end up being their future leaders.

Improve productivity and performance.

For every $1 invested in training an apprentice, employers across the country report an average return of $1.47. As apprentices develop and become journeypersons in the companies they train with, they are almost 30% more productive and have better health and safety records.

Develop a more tech-savvy workforce.

Through technical and classroom instruction, apprentices learn the latest innovations. They are comfortable with technology and bring added expertise to your team. Your training, combined with new skills that apprentices bring to the table, can propel your business forward.

Bring new energy and diversity to your workplace.

Today's apprentices come from all walks of life - from young people who are choosing apprenticeship as their post-secondary path to experienced workers making a career change. There are more women entering the skilled trades, as well as people from many cultures. They are smart, motivated and bring fresh energy to your workplace.

Take advantage of programs and incentives.

The benefits that come with apprenticeship make it a smart investment for any business – small, medium, or large. It makes even more sense when you consider the support available to employers.

CANADIAN LANDSCAPE STANDARDS

It is our goal to have the Canadian Landscape Standard (CLS) on the desk of every landscape professional in Nova Scotia. If you design, build, manage or maintain the landscape, the CLS is a must have resource for your business.

Why?...

- Because as a part of our landscape horticulture industry value chain, you are in the position to influence landscape performance results with your clients, customers, allied professions, and local government.
- Because the CLS references our industry professional credentials including our Landscape Architects, CLDs, CLHTs and LHTs
- Because the CLS is referenced in our Municipal Specifications and National Master Specifications.

All members of CNLA's provincial associations and members of the CSLA receive a free digital subscription as a member benefit – including students!

It is the landscape horticulture industry's time, as we provide key products and services in a world dealing with the real affects of climate change. Get your copy!
