Affordable Connectivity Program

ParichuteConnect is now offering an Affordable Connectivity Program for people living on qualifying tribal lands. This is a FCC benefit program that helps to ensure that low-income households can afford broadband internet services. Households are eligible if they are at or below %200 of the Federal Poverty Guidelines, or meet certain other criteria. Other qualifying criteria includes:

- Received a federal pell grant during the current award year
- Receives free and reduced meals through school
- SNAP
- Medicaid
- SSI
- WIC
- And more
