

Welcome to Port Alberni

Nestled between the mountains and the ocean on the west coast of Vancouver Island, Port Alberni is a community rich in natural beauty, adventure, and local charm. Known as the gateway to the Pacific Rim, Port Alberni offers the perfect blend of outdoor exploration and small-town connection.

From stunning waterfront views and world-class fishing to hiking trails, forests, rivers, and nearby beaches, there's something here for every type of explorer. Visitors and residents alike can experience local markets, unique shops, incredible restaurants, and a growing arts and culture scene that reflects the heart of the community.

Spend the day exploring local favourites like Stamp River Provincial Park, take in the incredible scenery at Hole in the Wall, stroll along Harbour Quay, or experience the area's rich history and culture through museums, galleries, and community events. Whether you enjoy outdoor adventure, local food, shopping, or relaxing by the water, Port Alberni offers something unique in every season. Looking to explore more, visit www.albernivalleyexplorer.com for must see spots, trails and even learn something new about the Alberni Valley.

The Welcome Map is your guide to experiencing Port Alberni like a local—discovering hidden gems, supporting local businesses, and making meaningful connections along the way.
