Source Information

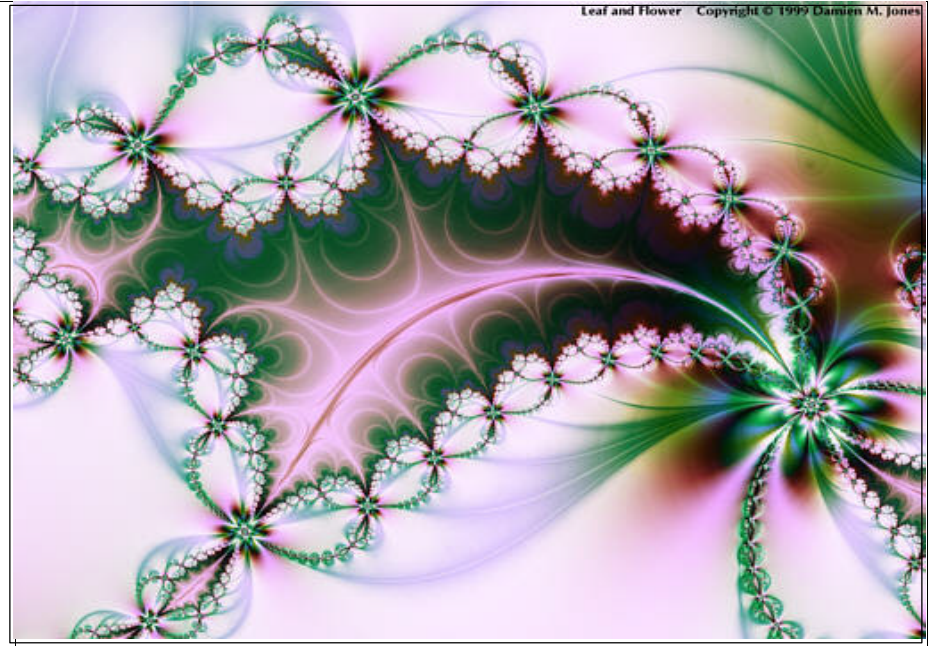

SBD → PCM → Cassette ? → DAT → CDR

From the original GDH Trading list tree announcement

The DAT>CDR conversion was performed with a ZA2 soundcard which downsampled (48>44.1). The second half of the set was normalized because the levels were lower. No other editing was done to the original.

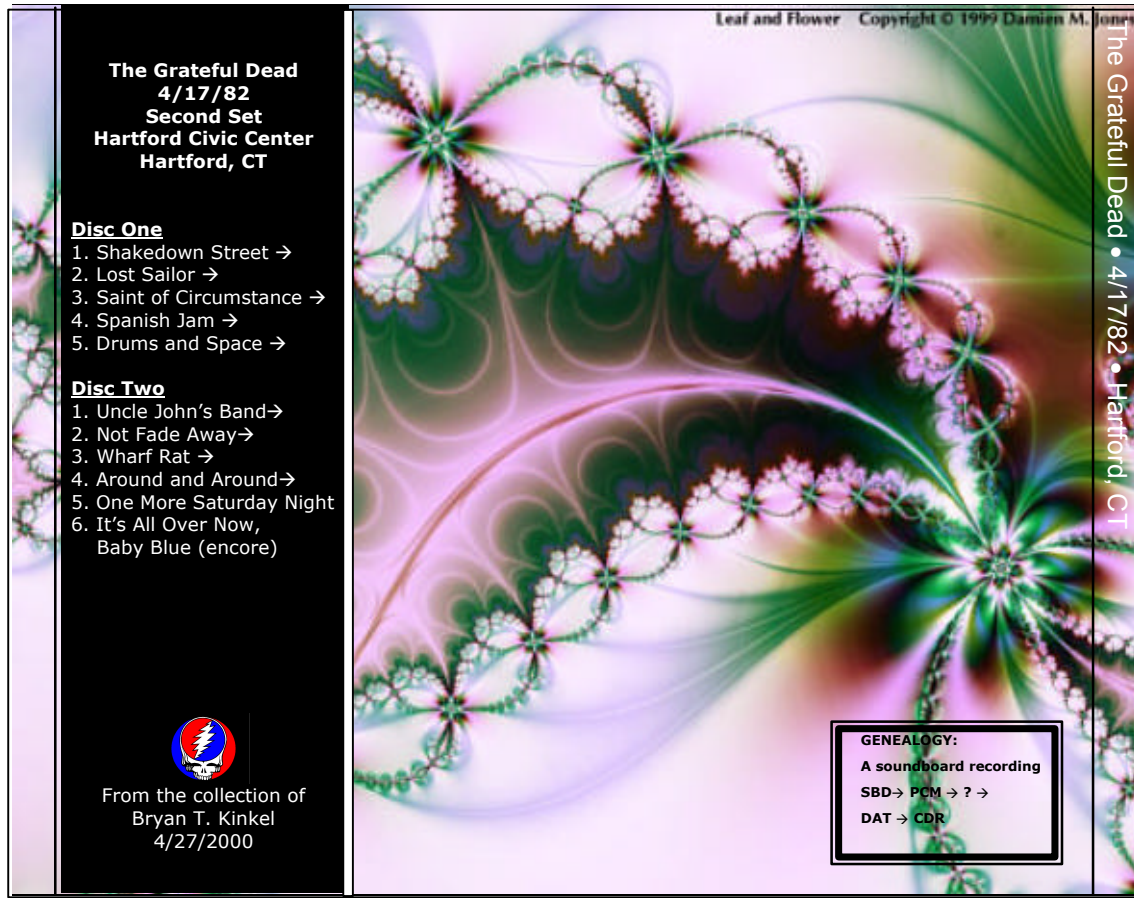

There is some mike crackle in shakedown, and a few clicks and pops. However this is the best circulating copy I know of. A widely circulating copy has the worst diginoise I have ever heard right at the start of sailor, among other places. This copy does not have those errors.
