Welfare Fraud and FBI Raids

Mr. President, you cut off welfare funds, now we have a big problem. What if I have a wife and kids, this behaviour will not be tolerated in America. Bet the Bank. I'm gonna make an example out of you people. You will pay your debts, on time and in kind. Jail is when welfare money gets cut off, not the street, not at work. And yes UNC, this person is still stalking me. They recently cut off my welfare funds again. I had a 1 year contract for $431 dollars a month. And, welfare is a good system. It helped me get back on my feet after FAU fired me.

UNC offered a phone call. Why are they the only one? 910-850-7147

Actually, dont arrest me at school. That would not look good for me. Just do it like Durham Tech, with the recognizance bond, without the mental hospital. You never know with arrests.

Is discussing political ideas with the welfare board who owes you money wrong? If a tree falls in the forest, does anybody hear it?

Civil Rights Violations, Everyone is a Protected Status, Including White Male Veterans

Sleem v. USDE: 5:22-CV-355-FL
Raleigh, Federal Court
Defendants: USDE, UNC, Durham Tech, FAU

So, I have a million dollar lawsuit against the USDE Cartel of Sandra Battle and Cynthia Pierre. Kicked out of the UNC dorms for smoking marijuana when college policy calls for probation for a first marijuana offense. Fired 2 weeks before finals first semester at PhD program at FAU. Suspended first semester at Durham Tech for a ghost email.

And the USDE accused me of plagiarising my thesis in the USDE Report. These are all civil rights violations, yes, against a white male. Raleigh wont file the lawsuit. I filed as indigent, and they said they would file and mail the civil summons, though they never did.

I just dont want a black person being racist against me again and not filing my lawsuit. Do you want to look into the lawsuit I already filed? There is no statute of limitations on 14th amendment discrimination.

Kevin Sleem

UNC illegal Drugs Policy

For a first offense involving the illegal possession of any controlled substance identified in Schedules III through VI, N.C. General Statutes 90-91 through 90-94, the minimum penalty shall be probation, for a period to be determined on a case-by-case basis. A person on probation must agree to participate in a drug education and counseling program, consent to regular drug testing, and accept such other conditions and restrictions, including a program of community service, as the Chancellor or the Chancellor's designee deems appropriate. Refusal or failure to abide by the terms of probation shall result in suspension from enrollment or from employment for any unexpired balance of the prescribed period of probation.

There was not any marijuana found, just a smoking device. Even so, it seems that being kicked out of the dorms was an extreme measure, when probation could have been offered instead.

I remember when I was staying at Brendans and Sohels I kept my clothes in my dorm room with Han for a week, and went there to take a shower and change in the morning. The RA advisor saw me and told me, youre not allowed to be here. It was him. He was black, so maybe it racial. Why would he even care about that? A student accusing another student? Maybe he wasnt a student at all, right?

Ill drop most of the lawsuit for an apology letter from the Chancellor.

Feel free to unblock sleemkevin@gmail.com from unc.edu

I remember at FAU Madura suggested that I was dismissed from the program entirely, so I saw so no need to take finals. I only later learned that only my money was cut off, and I still could have taken finals, and continued in the program. The dean dismissed me from the program in February. Madura fired me in November. Now, you never regret publishing pictures of someone, though I certainly wish for the simpler option, I could have just gone down to the DSS building and gotten the new form, which they never mailed me, never told me when I called, and still hasn't been returned by my doctor. So we'll keep the lawsuit open for now.

Im still looking for a lawyer, for Sleem v. the USDE Cartel of UNC, FAU, and Durham Tech, for reverse discrimination against white males. Apparently, they won't file the lawsuit and give me free money for civil rights violations.

I updated the NC residency for the UNC PhD application. I also have a PhD application at Yale, Post Docs at UNC and Yale, HKU Provost, and Fayetteville Tech Senior Vice President. I think I should work at a school again before accountant in the Cayman Isles.

Now, the black lady who handled my appeal was very nice at our meeting, I missed the final meeting because I was smoking marijuana in the dorms. Though, if a black man fired me from the dorms because I was white, that is racial discrimination. And that looks like what happened.

Since you want to talk about race instead of marijuana. Is it UNC Policy to remove students from the dorms during the semester for a first marijuana offense? Is it policy in American Academia to fire students 2 weeks before finals in PhD programmes? Is British Academia Thesis Only?

UNC Email, Report and Response

report and response <reportandresponse@unc.edu>

September 8, 2022

Good afternoon,

This email is being sent to you from the Report and Response Coordinator team in UNC Chapel Hill's Equal Opportunity and Compliance Office (EOC). This email is UNC-Chapel Hill's response to concerns you shared by email with UNC's Provost. We encourage you to review the attached resources should there be any listed that are of interest to you. There may also be reporting options available to you depending on the situations you have experienced and their current affiliation with UNC.

The EOC has reviewed the information you provided by email to the Provost. It's our understanding the experience you share related to UNC occurred in the early 2000s and involved someone who was then a resident advisor in your residence hall. If you're willing to share, it would be helpful to know: the name of this individual, if you are continuing to receive unwanted contact from him, and if you have additional details you can share about your experience at UNC. Are you willing to share this information in response to this email?

We understand you wrote comprehensively about a number of concerns, potentially with other institutions and organizations. UNC will be limited in what we can do in response to your experiences based on our jurisdiction and behavior that falls within our policies. That said, any information you're willing to provide at this time will remain documented with our office and assessed for any response options.

As you may know, our office, the EOC, is responsible for the UNC-Chapel Hill's policies prohibiting harassment and discrimination based on an individual's protected status (including: age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status) and incidents related to sexual harassment, sexual violence, relationship violence, and stalking. Options through the EOC are also limited to behavior and concerns that happen within UNC's jurisdiction, including matters involving current students and current employees. You can learn more about our work and process on the EOC website: <http://eoc.unc.edu>

Given the totality and history of your concerns it is understandable if you are managing an emotional impact and/or needing support at this time. The resources attached may depend on your current connection to UNC and to the Chapel Hill community. I have national resources listed here, as well:

- National Crisis Text Line: <https://www.crisistextline.org/text-us/>
 - Text HOME to 741741 to reach a Crisis Counselor

- National Alliance on Mental Health: <https://www.nami.org/findsupport?state=>

Thank you for the response. As an alumni later in life, I am 39 and working as an accountant in Fayetteville, it has dawned on me recently that what happened to me in the fall of 2001 at Hinton-James Dorm was not right. For one, rehab and counseling and community service could have been scheduled instead of kicking me out of the dorm, and almost causing me to flunk out. I had to sleep on a friend's futon that first semester, which isn't allowed. Brendan and Sohel's room was where I slept, and Han was my roommate to begin the semester. We all 4 smoked weed together, not uncommon for 18 year old college freshman. There were no hard drugs, just weed and beer.

One note of caution, marijuana has a smell. Most hard drugs do not emit odors. I had police at a party at my house when I was in high school try the same trick, he told me he smelled marijuana. So prosecuting people for smoking marijuana just because you smelled it may have adverse effects with drugs that are odorless.

Again, thank you for the response. This is the first positive communication I have received since I was fired from the PhD program at FAU fall 2008, including the USDE FAU Report.

What I want to know is if your policy has changed, or what is the policy for drugs at the campus dorms. As it should be, marijuana is illegal in the federal government, though I don't think that we want to be removing students from campus for smoking marijuana when they are young. A professor, sure, a student, no.

Sure, I would accept a phone call. When should we schedule the phone call? Fridays work best for me. I think it's counterintuitive to kick someone out of the dorm while they are still enrolled in classes. I understand that you refunded the payment to my parents, though it takes time to find a new place to live, and after the semester is a better time to remove someone from the dorms, assuming that all options have been considered.

Is a report going to be issued by UNC on this matter? Can I get a copy of the file you have on hand from 2001, if you still have any documentation? I want this documented, that is my goal. It's certainly puzzling to me, and a trend. I have been kicked out of 3 colleges, with no police arrests, no cheating on exams, and no plagiarism, so I am definitely trying to gather more information on what I call the USDE Cartel of Sandra Battle and Cynthia Pierre, the two ladies who wrote the USDE FAU Report.

I have attached a copy of the USDE FAU Report, so you know what I am protesting. I disagree with the plagiarism allegations, and I find it unreasonable to a rational person that I would only ask for money owed and not an appeal, which the report claims. As for the appeal, I was fired 2 weeks before finals in November of 2008 via email from Jeff Madura, and never received a response from him as to my appeal options, which naturally was the first question I had, how do I appeal this. I also find it strange that Jeff Madura, an accomplished publisher in academic journals, would fire a PhD student via email 2 weeks before finals, so I think something else is going on, possibly Geoff Gitlen, a second year student who was sitting in on the paper writing class, Research Seminar, and who approached me before the semester to help me adjust. He clearly did not help me succeed. which he said he was helping to do.

As for Durham Tech, I was suspended for a year for an alleged email to a professor, which they never provided me with, and told to get a counselor letter to return to school after a 1 year suspension, which I did, and they still did not readmit me to school. So 3 times now, and I am now looking into these 3 events in the context of the mistake ridden USDE FAU Report. The men in charge of my Durham Tech dismissal are Greg Bellamy and Abraham Dones.

I just don't think it is normal for a college student to call the police on another college student because he or she smelled marijuana. This cannot be a common occurrence at college campuses. The reason I think it is the RA Advisor, is he was the only person I had met so far in the quad, and maybe an upper classman RA advisor would call the police before a freshman. Maybe you know who called the police on me, because I don't.

Hello Kevin –

Good morning and thank you for reaching out. Based on our policies, my office, Equal Opportunity and Compliance (EOC), can address discrimination or harassment committed by a UNC-affiliated individual related to their connection to UNC. We are not able to address concerns unrelated to discrimination or harassment. If you believe you experienced discrimination or harassment based on protected status while you were at UNC, please let me know who you believe discriminated against or harassed you so that my team can evaluate what options may be available.

As for your request for records from 2001 related to your UNC Housing assignment, my office would not have those. You can contact Housing Director Allan Blattner at allan_blattner@unc.edu to find out if those records are available.

Finally, we are not able to address your concerns related to FAU, Durham Tech, or the Department of Education. I encourage you to reach out to those institutions directly to discuss those concerns.

Hi, thank you for the response. I am looking for 2 things. One, the name of the person who called the police on me in 2001. I think it was the upper classman RA advisor in my quad. Two, I want to know if you still kick freshmen out of the dorm for smoking marijuana, and what the current university policy is for drugs on campus. Clearly, I was harassed and discriminated against because I was smoking marijuana. Im not going to get into protected status, everyone is a protected status, though the reason the police were called is because a student was smoking marijuana, not a professor. This cannot be a common occurrence, kicking a student out of the dorms for smoking marijuana. Someone harassed and discriminated against me by calling the police over a trivial and frivolous matter. Maybe UNC has the name of this person.

Perhaps the FBI can shed light on these issues as well. You have already done a lot by simply responding, though you did offer a phone call. 910-850-7147, Fridays

Does the housing authority have a copy of this matter and report from 2001?

Hello Kevin –

Thank you for your reply. Based on what you have shared so far, you have not articulated an instance of discrimination or harassment based on a protected status that may fall under EOC policies. Housing Director Allan Blattner (CCed here) can more directly address your questions about UNC Housing policies.

Kevin-

From the Carolina Housing perspective, we maintain residence hall rules and behavioral guidelines that are in line with the University's policies on illegal drugs (<https://policies.unc.edu/TDClient/2833/Portal/KB/ArticleDet?ID=132140>). As far as information about your specific situations, Housing maintains records such as those for 7 years, so they are no longer accessible to us.

Lifes no fun, without welfare money.

0x01e66C1e84FEE5FAf959E96823F71593eca3a562, Coinbase, Tether, Kevin Sleem

Hey Ashley. I am wondering why the Raleigh District Court wont file my lawsuit against the USDE Cartel of FAU, Durham Tech, and UNC. Im owed crypto, and a meeting with the President in 2024, off TV, Eddie Roach. Coinbase, Tether. Barack Obama served a beer at the White House to diffuse a dispute. The money sure would help this year while Im in school. Now, I dropped the lawsuit with Judge Middlebrooks when I was in jail, but I am allowed to refile, maybe. This is an expanded lawsuit, with the USDE Cartel, discriminating against a white male in America. Theres your angle, he already dismissed the lawsuit when he was in jail with Judge Middlebrooks. Wow, extortion and stalking. Well, the stalking was right. Its not extortion when you owe welfare money.

I remember when I was in jail in Palm Beach the John Goodman DUI case was on TV. Now, he was insane for taking that to trial. DUI is a tough case to beat at trial. I beat one in Jacksonville though. I got 2 reckless drivings instead of 1 DUI. I had a good lawyer, Jonathan Rowe. But I had an easy case, and a bad lawyer. The same thing happened with the 5,000 dollar restitution for the UNC case, bad lawyer. These defense lawyers all work with the prosecutors to get plea deals. I should have taken both cases to trial, though when a defense attorney begs you to take the plea deal, you do. At least I did. He certainly begged me to not go to trial against Michael McAuliffe, the DA. Youre welcome, Jeff Madura. UNC owes me money for Hinton-James. Russian Roulette, Gay Meth Pictures. Now, that was a joke, and you are never sorry for what you say. I had just finished my thesis, I was feeling good. Ive just finished my semester, Im feeling good again.

I remember when I was in jail in Florida, I spit on one of the guards, after an inmate spit on me. Another inmate punched me in the stomach, and I lost lunch for a week. I told one of the other guards that I was sorry, and he told me, youre not sorry. Its true, youre never sorry in life. Apologies fall on deaf ears. My one regret was not taking the FAU case to trial though. And now I know, just threaten the DA to get a new trial and a fresh start. Maybe, thats a dangerous road to go down again.

Why dont you arrest me again for extortion, rip me out of Fayetteville Tech? Why not. I finished fall semester, Im ready for trial again.

Biden 2024. Im a communist, a white Russian Communist. A real communist. The conservative government controls the TV. The establishment is conservative. Judges are conservative. Conservative means you follow the rules. Ukraine is losing the war.

Crypto is a scam, Crypto is extortion. If I could turn back time, FAU Trial. Kiss me Deadly. The Bills and Bengals should have finished the damn game. No crying in baseball.

I, Kevin Sleem, of sound mind, do hereby order FAU to deposit $72,000 into my crypto account. Now thats what I call extortion, NYT. What are you gonna do, arrest me at work?

You see, without my welfare money, I cant finish school anyways, so might as well blow it up again. No, Im not borrowing from mom and dad again. I, Dr. Kevin Sleem, of sound mind, will publish Joe Bidens gay meth pictures in the NYT unless I get my welfare money. Now thats extortion. Please, arrest me again.

Sleem v. Cumberland County DSS

Meetings are a good way to resolve issues. UNC offered a meeting, and the FBI meeting clarified a few things for me too. Now we are just waiting on FAU.

Well, that was a positive meeting with the FBI. They said they weren't worried about the pictures, just the comments about the police and arrest procedure, which was secondary and an oversight. I am sorry for the comments about the police, though some people are not. I am not a habitual criminal, so I value the police. Not counting DUI, I have made two mistakes, FAU and welfare. I used to be a police officer in the US Navy.

I regret issuing that report, because there was a simpler option. Apparently, if I had gone down to the DSS building that may have resolved the issue. So I need to submit another form, which they never mailed me, and didn't tell me about when I called. I don't regret publishing pictures of people though, that is a good idea sometimes. I also think it was a good meeting because the FBI is likely who authorized my apartment to be broken into and my 2 computers stolen. It's a good topic for a US Prison Report 2023, welfare fraud and FBI raids.

That's 2 positive meetings, UNC and FBI. Were almost even.

Well now we know, pictures usually is not an arrestable offense, though it could be I suppose. So I maybe should not have had my probation violated in Myrtle Beach for extorting the DA, and I should not have been arrested for issuing the US Prison Report 2012 when I was on unsupervised probation. We have a few issues here that a meeting with the FBI would resolve.

And, if I had been allowed to work for the Durham Bulls, none of this welfare would be relevant.

If I could turn back time, I would take FAU to trial. They will always say, well, you plead guilty, that means you're guilty. You don't plead guilty if you are not afraid of trial. That's true, I lost. And, you're welcome for the convictions, Jeff Madura Geoff Gitlen and Michael McAuliffe. Oh Geoff Gitlen, I haven't forgotten about you. I should have been like John Goodman and taken it to trial. Too late now, they won. The first arrest at FAU I was weak. The second arrest for probation violation I had them, and I let them go. I just let them go. At the probation violation hearing the DA told me, I read your paper, it was good. Then they gave me a dime.

Speaking of Hong Kong and Computer Banking Lights, and American TV Billionaire Spreadsheets, I remember at FAU for my last paycheck I was supposed to receive 1000, instead I received 100. Just erase a zero, I guess.

Set up the meeting with Trump then, Ill drop the lawsuit

Friday, January 5th

Dont be a chicken FAU. Ill drop the lawsuit for a cigar meeting with President Trump to discuss what I posted to Facebook. Please include the newspaper journalist who is already assigned to my case. Now I may not be a social butterfly like you, though I talk when I want to. And yes, I failed the CPA exam again, Ill get it eventually. Ill pass statistics eventually. Ill get my job in the Cayman Isles.

Hey, were getting warm. Boca Raton, FAU, Palm Beach, Trump

Cumberland County DSS Payments, Lawsuit Filed

Well, that is a punch in the gut, cutting off welfare money. And, no response from Cumberland County DSS for the money. FAU owes me $72,000 for the PhD programme. I am indifferent to the situation, though DSS should not have stopped my 400 dollar payments, and I always accept crypto stock in lieu of payment. This lawsuit has bothered me and my US Navy Officer commission from ROTC at UNC. That would have paid for my senior year. Not to mention being fired from FAU and Durham Tech. FAU should have given me unemployment insurance. The graduate student union was absent in my case.

Which UNC case do you want to talk about, Confederate flag shirts, which were mine, or smoking marijuana at Hinton James Dorm? The US government is afraid of TV trial. I should have taken the FAU case to trial to begin with.

So, Mr. Sleem, Eddie Roach, what would you discuss with Trump or Biden. Well, Pentagon Woke strategy, and reverse discrimination against white males.

Durham Apartment

Oh yeah, I also dont appreciate being forced to move after my apartment was broken into. My plan was to stay in Durham. I feel like my apartment was raided by the Democrats and my 2 laptops were stolen and gone through.

Youre Never Sorry, US Prison Report 2023

Do I really want to get arrested. No. And, this sets a bad precedent, cutting off welfare funds. Bet the bank.

Oh yeah, I was drunk when I sent that email about cigar meeting with Trump, obviously. That was Friday nite, and I had just learned my money was cut off, and I drank, a lot. I usually am smarter than that, though oh well, it happens. These kinds of emails I usually write over a few days, or longer.

Lesson Learned, Durham Bulls

I think the lesson to be learned from that Friday email about a cigar meeting with President Trump, after I drank 22 beers after learning my funds were cut off, is that the FBI went out of their way to do that. I had an easy job at the Durham Bulls, which I could be working again this year. I wouldnt have qualified for the extra welfare funds. Instead, the FBI hired roving criminals from San Diego to steal my car and my 2 computers. For peanuts.

Now nobody likes making a mistake, like a drunk email, though I take no responsibility for my actions. I blame the FBI for the apartment breakin, and the email wasnt that bad anyways. Silver Lining, Fayetteville Tech, which I did not need. Conversely, I would still be close to UNC and Duke and NC State, within driving distance. And the USDE could have filed the case on Durham Tech and let me back in there too.

It was a positive meeting with the FBI, and they admitted that maybe I should not have been arrested in Florida the second and third times for pictures and publishing the US Prison Report 2012.

I think that report is a good example of my writing abilities, and warrants me a job at an American Academia school for 2024, at 50k.

If I Could Turn Back Time, John Goodman

Eddie Roach

My story starts in college, at 18, at UNC Chapel Hill. I was kicked out of the dorm 2 weeks into my first semester for smoking marijuana. No rehab scheduled, no community service, just kicked out. They refunded the deposit for room and board to my parents, who did not tell me and I did not tell them. They thought I tried to get a refund for drug money. So I slept on a friend's futon for the semester, and almost flunked out. I was majoring in computer science, and would not have passed that major, too much calculus. Though, how can you remove a student from the dorms when he is still enrolled in class? This was a mistake, and at 39 I realized this mistake and emailed UNC, and they replied back with a phone conference. They know who called the police on me, probably the upper classman RA advisor, who was in the same quad as me. This is not allowed, sleeping three to a dorm room. I appealed the dismissal and had a good meeting with a black lady. Then I missed the hearing because I was smoking marijuana in the dorm room. It is not uncommon for college freshmen to smoke weed and drink beer. We do not want to be kicking students out for smoking weed. Professors, yes. Students, no.

My senior year at UNC I applied for Marines ROTC, and was denied because I have Chinese tattoos for love and hate on my wrists. The man told me on the phone that they were gang tattoos. I disagree, kanja is ubiquitous in tattoo shops, and are not gang tattoos. The US Navy owes me money for my senior year of ROTC. FAU owes me money for the PhD programme. So I took the bus to the recruiting station, I lost my truck due to DUI, and enlisted in the Navy for SWICC, the guys that back up SEALs. Though at Raleigh MEPPS they told my eyeglasses precluded me from special forces, so I signed up for nuclear program. I was stationed at Charleston, at Navy Nuclear Training Program, then got a DUI and told them I wanted to leave. So I was transferred to the USS JFK at Naval Station Mayport. This lasted a year, as I told someone that I wanted to go to school at UNF and get an MBA. He told me no, so I quit, I said, I'm not cleaning the bilge anymore, not right now. I still want to be a CPA. And they tried to hold me to the 8 year contract for nuclear program. If I had been downgraded to 4 years, I might have stuck it out. You never know. I enjoyed my time in the Navy, being enlisted is fun. Just drink and drive every nite, go to the club, use cocaine, not marijuana. Marijuana should be illegal in the federal government, and cocaine, can't have police officers smoking weed. I would protest making marijuana legal for the president.

After the US Navy, I worked at Georgia Pacific Paper Company as an accountant for a month. Then my tires got slashed at the club, and I missed work, and they fired me. Then I enrolled in the MBA program at the University of North Florida, UNF. At the same time I accepted a job as nite auditor at the Ponte Vedra Club, the best job ever, nite auditor at a hotel. I got 3 more DUIs in Jacksonville, though only booked for 1. I had a good lawyer, we beat the case. After graduating from UNF in May 2008, I entered a PhD program in finance at Florida Atlantic University, FAU. My 2 PhD references were John Adams and John MacArthur. Jeff Madura was my PhD advisor at FAU. Geoff Gitlen was the second year who greeted me at the door. I missed a meeting with Geoff Gitlen because I got arrested at the Jacksonville Jail requesting DUI records for CPA eligibility. My dad paid the bail, and I forged the community service using UNF letterhead. A smart idea, forging community service. Hey, Ill do it eventually. Im no charity case give me something to eat, Ill pay you at another time.

So I got to FAU early and finished my teaching notes before the semester started, and asked to take more classes than the 3. They denied my request. Madura took the other 2 students out to lunch, and not me. Then he fired me via email 2 weeks before finals, with no appeal options. That was my first question, though the USDE Civil Rights Report said I only asked for money. I missed two classes in a row in the Statistics/Calculus class because I failed the first test. So I spent a lot of time writing my thesis. Hey, British Academia over American Academia, Its Always Thesis Only. So I left Boca Raton in April 2009, with 100k in student loans and credit card debt. Thats not that much for a young doctor. I took the CMA exam in Jacksonville, and sat for all 4 parts of the CIA exam that week of finals fall 2008. I passed 2, and passed the other 2 from my parents couch in Myrtle Beach. I also wrote my thesis in Myrtle Beach, and when I finished, I threatened the DA with pictures if he didnt drop the charges. I also took the CPA Exam for the first time in Myrtle Beach, my mom drove me to Charleston, because I got another DUI in Myrtle Beach.

I was charged with aggravated stalking and extortion against Jeff Madura. Not FAU. The 100 anonymous monkey madura emails were to Jeff Madura. The the death threat from my personal email address. I wanted him to feel it, to know where it came from. A good scheme, I think. Anonymous then personal. Lightning and Thunder. My plan after at least a year at FAU was to move to the Cayman Isles and work as an accountant. My dream was to be a CPA in the Cayman Isles, though I cant pass the CPA Exam. Instead of moving to the Cayman Isles, FAU fucked me up in the head, so I flew to Cape Town South Africa instead in February 2009, and applied for residency. My SAQA was waiting for me when I got back from being arrested in Palm Beach. After the death threat, the police responded immediately, and went to my parents' house in Fayetteville. They called me, and I went I get my gun. I was staying at a hotel, and the gun was at the Myrtle Beach house. I got arrested because I got drunk and went out looking for cocaine. You can do that you know, go downtown to buy drugs. The cops saw me sitting and waiting, and ran my drivers' license and saw the warrant.

This was the first extradition to Palm Beach. The second was for threatening the DA with pictures if he didnt drop the charges. Thats a tough ride, in that little extradition van. So I filed complaints against FAU with the accreditation agencies and the USDE, and the USDE wrote the bogus report that I plagiarised, did not do my homework, only asked for money and not an appeal, and that the extortion was not retaliation. Good job, Sandra Battle and Cynthia Pierre.

I was weak for the first conviction. I plead guilty to extortion and stalking and took 5 years probation. I was weak, and they took advantage of that. If I could turn back time, I would take the case to trial like John Goodman. Then for the pictures against the DA, I let them go. I just let them go. When your attorney begs you to take the deal, I did. I also did for the vandalism case at UNC with 5K restitution. UNC owes me money, right?

So after the probation violation, I took 2 years and unsupervised probation if I left the country. I told my attorney I would only accept unsupervised, and he led me astray. He told me that I could submit a motion for unsupervised once I was released. Again, my mistake, bad deal. So I applied for unsupervised in jail at Hamilton Prison, filed and withdrew a lawsuit against FAU with Judge Kiddlebrooks, and got in a war of words with the Warden. The first DR was for cussing out the warden in an inmate grievance, for not getting paper my father had sent me. You are only allowed 20 sheets in the mail, and he sent me 50, so they sent it all back. So I snapped. Then the warden got grimy and wrote me another DR for being a danger to the community for legal mail they went through of my original case. That set me off, and I cussed him out again in inmate grievances, got 10 DRs, then they sent the psych staff to talk to me, and they sent me Union, a psych camp. So I was Baker Acted out of jail the first time, and second time, where the probation officer met me at the mental health clinic. I refused to sign the probation papers, because it was god damned unsupervised probation.

So then first day out of jail I wrote the US Prison Report 2012, and emailed it to 100 probation offices and FAU. They arrested me the next day for contacting the victim. The judge later said at the probation hearing that I was not in the wrong for contacting FAU, my prior employer. They also charged me with resisting arrest. I walked out into the yard, and they just tackled me. Good scheme, tackle the criminal and charge him with resisting arrest. Then I hired the same attorney, first Douglas Leifert, then Ned Reagan, and he submitted papers for incompetent to proceed at my probation violation hearing. I fired him on the spot. He said, I quote, it was his job as my attorney to do the right thing. I will say, the mental health check turned out to be a blessing, welfare helped me get back on my feet after jail, very communist. The government should control the TV and interracial marriages in a communist country like Russia.

Then I was Baker Acted again after 10 years in jail, and sent McElheney Hospital, where I got the benefits check. At first I was angry to get benefits, and also angry to take psych meds. Though most psych meds are only psychiatric saline solution, they don't do anything. It's all a scam, psych meds. It's placebo effect.

After jail I went back to Myrtle Beach on my parents couch, and we had a plan to move back to Fayetteville to 707 Greenland and work for my dad for a year. They they disrespected me, In thought, so I used their Old Navy credit card to fly to London on a one way ticket. London did not let me pass, and sent me to LA. I tried to enter into Vancouver Canada, though they stopped me there too, and sent me to LA. I still had the credit card then, so I slept at the Santa Monica Pier and hostel and Wyndham for 2 weeks, then booked a Greyhound to DC. They have taxis waiting at the Santa Monica Pier. In DC, I went to Pennsylvania Avenue, and slept in front of the Trump Hotel my first nite. At some point I purposely lost my wallet and and Nazi passports, then they returned the wallet, then the wallet magically disappeared in line at McDonalds. So I had no food. I slept in the park. It is very peaceful; I sleeping the park at nite. I stayed in the homeless shelter for 1 nite, though it is dirty there. At some point I emailed my parents from the library in Arlington, and they came to visit from Fayetteville.

I applied for a food stamps card the first time in DC, and they denied me, because I said I wanted to leave to DC. That sucked. I would have had to wait because I didnt have an ID anyways, though they could have approved the food stamps card for a homeless person. Then in Arlington we went to the food stamps office and they gave me a card on the spot.

Then I joined the Mormon Church for a bit in Arlington, met Marc Ireland, who wrote a reference for me to UNLV. Then I took the train back to Fayetteville, and my dad met me st the train station. We drove to Myrtle Beach, and he bought me a hotel room for a month for 1000K. Then we argued about money, they didnt give me the Old Navy credit card back, so I took it out of my moms purpose and my dads Lowes card. I booked a Greyhound to Las Vegas with the credit card, then tried to book a hotel room at the MGM Grande. The hotel would not take the credit card, for whatever reason, so I flipped out. I thought my mom had canceled the card, though she had not. It was just a coincidence. So I took the truck and drove to Fayetteville, and then Chapel Hill. Then i bought a hat at the Duke student store, and stayed at the Washington Duke Hotel. I was drinking at the bar and the cut me off, so I got mad, and checked out. I was going to stay there for a nite and then drive to Las Vegas. So I ripped a Duke basketball banner off the wall on the way out, and there was a cop waiting for me to arrest me for DUI, I passed the breathalyzer.

The cop told me to put the keys on the dashboard, what cop says that. So when they let me go with a court date, I had no keys. So I took a taxi to the junkyard, and then started walking. I had no keys, and it was late at nite, so I abandoned the truck, with my computer in it. I walked around Durham and Chapel Hill, until the credit cards were turned off. Then the police were called on me at the STRATA SOLARIS building, and I walked to Cameron from there. I found a great place to live in Cameron North Carolina. There is a big white house with a small one room building across the street with a mattress, and thats where I slept until the police arrested me for the Durham DUI, and extradited me back to Durham. They dropped the DUI, and I plead guilty to larceny. From there, after release, I kept walking, and was arrested in the Jordan Lake area, for IVC. I didnt have to go into Duke Hospital, he dropped me off in the parking lot.

It was there in Duke Hospital that they gave me the retarded check, SSI. Thats a good way to live, homeless with an SSI check. From there to a group home for 6 months, then Alliance Housing and Carolina Outreach in Durham. I passed the NC Insurance Exam, though was denied a license because of my record. I took the bus to the testing center. Then I entered Durham Tech, and was suspended after 2 weeks, for the ghost email. They never let me back in, even after the year had ended and I provided the counselor letter. Then I was involuntarily committed again for the UNC Student YMCA redecorating. Changed Act Teams because of that. Finally got on Special Assistance with the new Act Team. Got a car in Richmond with my dad. I paid 5K and he paid 5K, and the payments are 400 a month for 5 years.

Then Greg Bellamy and Abraham Dones and the FBI broke into my apartment and stole my 2 computers and 2 TVS. So I moved back to Fayetteville, to 707 Greenland, and Fayetteville Tech. The Raleigh District Court wont file my lawsuit.
