

Kenzie Carter

While she may seem like just a dog to some, to me, she is so much more - a true friend and hero. When anxiety gets the better of me and panic attacks ensue, she compassionately directs me to sit and employs pressure points to ease my distress. In crowded spaces, she fearlessly advocates for my personal space. She possesses a unique understanding of my anxiety and warns me when it's becoming overwhelming. Additionally, she facilitates restful sleep and alleviates nightmares through therapeutic pressure points. Her perceptiveness enables her to recognize exactly when I need her support. Delilah Grace has profoundly enhanced my life. I am truly blessed to have such a loyal and loving companion. On her 2nd birthday, I'm reminded of the immense joy she brings to my life. I love you Delilah Grace, Happy Birthday sweet girl ❤️
