

OUR HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

We are three female entrepreneurs making our way into the cannabis industry. We promote mental health awareness, small businesses owned by women, and ending the stigma on consuming marijuana.

After attending a “Women Grow” event on August 29th, we were inspired by the wonderful Marvina particularly; not only because of her ability to bring a tear to our eye with her passionate presentation, but what can only be described as fate or the work of some higher power- she exclaimed: “if there isn’t room for you; bring your own chair.” Little did she know, with just that one harmless phrase, she changed our whole lives— at that moment, listening to this powerful, admirable, woman uplift everyone in that building— we sat in chairs we had brought from the speed hiring event to make room for ourselves in a fully packed presentation area.

Cut to our now second Women Grow event 20 days later and we have:

- A business name along with a Tax ID and Article of Organization filed, 167 followers on our business Instagram page, 53 people on our Facebook page, a brand new functioning website including our own domain, a service to offer our community about to go live any day now, a trademarked name, and a successful “Pink Kush” event networking experience where we met our new found mentors- Jasmine aka “The Canna Planner” and Angela from “The Bud Card.” It was at this event we also

- met another inspiring “Women Grow” Wonder Woman- Susan.
- Again, as fate would have it, being late due to our drive from Tucson to Phoenix during rush hour traffic- Susan was free to engage with us as we made our rounds to all the wonderful vendors in the cannabis community. We were able to tell her a little bit about our story and how much “Women Grow” effected us. Apparently, we talked about ourselves pretty well in spite of being completely giddy from excitement (and our nervous butterflies going crazy) that upon hearing our story, she intriguingly she asked if we would come to Phoenix again to speak at one of her events or even her LA location if we were ever in California (which happens to be Brittany’s home state...that she just so happens to have a tripped planned to visit at the end of October).
  - BUT OH WAIT...there’s more! While speaking with Jasmine and Angela at Friday’s event, they seemed to also get bitten by the #5150GanjaGirly bug, because Angela asked us to be on her new podcast and Jasmine offered us—the brand spank’n new cannababies in the industry—a table at the October 5th Pink Kush event in Tucson!
  - DID I MENTION IT’S ONLY BEEN 20 DAYS!!!!

We are by no means qualified enough to predict economic trends, business potential, or anything along those lines for that matter- but we would like to think.....that’s a pretty damn good start!

In closing, we just want to thank everyone involved in our success up to this point, because without your inspiration, passionate presentations, or the willingness to include us in your established community, we would not be here today.

We thank you, our families thank you, and most importantly- every female in the industry thanks you.

*Mic Drop* walk away like a G

TALKING POINTS 4 NETWORKING

What we offer at this point:

- > Bathroom Buds Therapy Session
- > 420 friendly event notices
- > Daily IG posts featuring products from women owned businesses in the industry that we have picked out/bought/ opened/ used/ reviewed all ourselves asking nothing in return, just so we can other people interested in their hand crafted products to potentially grow their business
- > Affiliation with Sativa Organics- which we earned on DAY TWO of our business coming to fruition

What we have planned for our near future:

- > CBD Boutique in Tucson exclusively featuring women who have created 420 inspired art and hand crafted smoking accessories

- > Daily Cannabis Industry related workshops at the Boutique such as "Cooking with Crazies" where the 5150 Ganja Girlz teach locals how to cook with marijuana
- > An ongoing #selfcare session offered by Brittany who holds a Masters in Psychology and lovingly refers to as "Bathroom Budz." She brings the experience women have while in bathrooms-usually at crowded/loud nightclubs or other places where there is heavy drinking- which almost always turns into an ugly crying session, or the even less fun experience of over drinking and needing assistance from some stranger to hold your hair back because the friend who dragged you out of your "Netflix and Chill" sesh with your cat PROMISED she wouldn't leave you if you came out with her tonight is currently making out with some rando at the bar...who is just like "soooo dreamy" *insert eye roll here* (insert ANOTHER eye roll here as we are all guilty of this at one point in our lives and we hate that fact) BUT it ends up being the coolest girl you have ever met that your would just connects with and feels like you can tell anything to because they "just get you." Brittany wants to be that girl for you. Come down to our boutique, enter our Chill Zone- filled with all the bean bag chairs, incense, and all the salt/lava lamps you can handle and just vent. Cry, yell, talk a mile a minute, or just get out of the house and out of your head to sit in silence-free of judgement where you just don't want to be alone with your thoughts.

What we have planned for our distant future:

- > Dispensary in Tucson
- > Growing Operations in Tucson
- > Being a household name with other top females in the industry