A Message from the President Eastview Wrestling Boosters

Welcome to Eastview Wrestling! With Covid still upon us, the 2021-22 season continues to throw obstacles in our way, but wrestling — thankfully — is still happening, and in the same character-building, achievement-driven way this program has always operated. Our youth are still getting the truly excellent one-on-one coaching and training that brings out the winner in every single one of them.

Last year’s theme (Own the Moment) can see its reflection in this year’s, Embrace the Corner, in that both speak to constrictions we must all continue to fight around. By embracing our difficulties this season, we will surely battle out of that corner using what’s inside of us to do so. That call from within to advance out of a tight spot, sometimes inch by inch, is where all of us, but especially our wrestlers, will be genuinely victorious.

Everything we do is made possible by the participation and support of parents, kids, as well as an accomplished and committed coaching staff. And anyone who’s dug into this program in the past will tell you the following: it’s a short, intense season; it delivers every last thing you could want from a sports program for our kids; and you’re going to miss it when it’s over.

So join in for every part of this effort you can — with your time, your financial support, your support of all of our wrestlers — and embrace that corner, everyone. It and this effort will disappear before you know it.

Go Lightning!

Embrace the Corner

2021-2022 Eastview Wrestling

What in the world does this season's motto mean to our program and wrestlers?

In short, it means to embrace the tough situations in life. If one is backed into a corner, we don't fold and quit. We take on what whatever is holding us back and perform; to grow, to fight.

Many of us have been there; be it having a tough day at school or work, then going to practice and not feeling 100 percent mentally. What do we do? Do we mentally quit? No! Here at Eastview, we Embrace the Corner and change our entire day by having a great practice.

One of the United States' most exciting and celebrated wrestlers, David Taylor, is a fine example of Embracing the Corner.

David Taylor, a 2X National Champion from Penn State started his International Freestyle Career behind a couple of great athletes: Jordan Burroughs and Kyle Dake, whom he could not beat to make a World team. David decided to go up in weight where he lit the international scene on fire! In 2018 at the World Championships, he defeated a stacked field at 86kg (189.5lbs) In that tournament he defeated Hassan Yazdani from Iran (Reigning World Champion and Olympic Gold medalist) 11-6. What a tournament for Taylor. He was named 2018 International Freestyle Wrestler of the Year.

Then things changed for Taylor. He suffered a knee injury. He was inactive for one full year. He came back, ready to compete for the US Olympic Trials, but due to the Covid pandemic that tournament was postponed. He could have quit. He could have let his mind take over and throw in the towel, but he fought hard with his training and took every opportunity he had to compete. In fact, he finally beat Jordan Burroughs in a Flow wrestling event in 2020.

At the 2020 Olympics, Taylor truly Embraced the Corner—all the setbacks due to injury and the pandemic, protocols and unknowns—he won Gold at 86kg, outscoring his opponents 35-5.

Wrestlers, many times in our lives we will face challenging moments—injury, school, home life, etc. How we react to said moments in our lives starts with embracing those times. Do we fold, or do we fight and move forward?

Here at Eastview, we are moving forward, making 2021-2022 the best season yet, by Embracing the Corner.

Commitment To Excellence

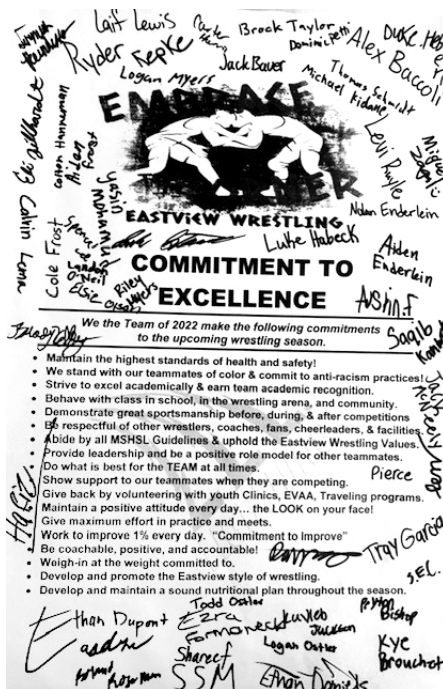

How good do you want to be? If your answer is, "good enough to get by," than a commitment to excellence is not necessary, but if your completely honest answer is, "the best," you must make a total commitment to excellence.

Wrestlers are born with varying degrees of natural ability. Sacrifice and a commitment to excellence are required to develop that ability. Time, hard work, continuous practice and repetition all go into the making of a good athlete.

To be a winner you must be willing to make sacrifices. This means maintaining good training habits, getting the proper amount of rest, and eating a balanced diet.

You can be as great as you want to be. If you believe in yourself and have the courage, determination, dedication, competitive drive, and if you are willing to give up the little things in life to accomplish an ultimate goal down the road, you will succeed!

In our years of involvement in athletics, we have seen athletes make a sincere commitment to excellence. They had a burning desire to be not just good, but great. They craved coaching. They wanted to learn a new wrestling move every day. They worked harder than the other wrestlers during the season and they never stopped working in the offseason. They went out of their way to look for tougher competition. Finally, they were stubborn—they refused to settle for anything less than the best.

As a result, each was a big winner. There was no luck or chance involved; these wrestlers worked hard so they would always have an edge when they went into their matches. They knew they would win...and they did.

A commitment to excellence means you must be willing to work hard, to push yourself physically until it hurts. We believe that any wrestler who walks off the mat after a full match and is not physically spent has not worked to his physical potential.

If you have a true commitment to excellence you will give up anything that does not help you become better as an athlete or a person. Don't be content with mediocrity—strive to live up to the greatness within you.

The great coach Vince Lombardi had this to say about making the commitment to excellence:

"For the winner there is 100 percent elation, 100 percent laughter, 100 percent fun and for the loser the only thing left is a 100 percent resolution and 100 percent determination. The game, I think, is a great deal like life. Every man makes his own personal commitment toward excellence and toward victory. Although you know ultimate victory can never be completely won, it must be pursued with all of one's might and each week there is a new encounter, each year a new challenge.

"I'd like to say that the quality of any man's life is a full measure of that man's personal commitment to excellence and to victory, regardless of what field he may be in."

MAKE A COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE!
