

THE OUTRIDER – Out of the Void

01 - The Gates of Dawn

At the break of day, he's working hard to make his pay
He's finding a way through the day
When he gets home its time to play
And so his life goes on and on and on, and on, and on, and on

But from the gates of dawn
A new day is forever being born

As the chariot flies, he reaches out to take a ride
Believing in all that is right
He see's the world and what it hides
And as the race unfolds he lost his hold

But from the gates of dawn
A new day is forever being born

On a starlit night, he see's a universe of light
He partakes from the waters of life
But he's a prisoner tonight
Cause all that he could be, he has been

But from the gates of dawn
A new day is forever being born
