

THE OUTRIDER – Out of the Void

10 - Worlds Apart

Have you ever seen a good man turn to bad, then back again
There's a hard road left to travel to find a way, back there again
Well I don't mean to be a bad man and though I try
That's what I am

Have you ever the thunder chase the rain, across the sky
Are there forces in mid-heaven that call to us, from up on-high
Will Armageddon free its children or is this just a porcelain dream

And the world turns its eyes from the suffering we all feel inside
And it carries us away from the secret it keeps hidden from our sight
That we might just find paradise

There are rumours in the hallways, and jumped-up punks in corridors
They got their eyes upon a rich man, they'll take it all for their own cause
Is there justice left in this world, and who is wrong, and who is right

And the world turns its eyes from the suffering we all feel inside
And it carries us away from the secret it keeps hidden from our sight
That we might just find paradise
