introduction

I believe that God is Good and Good is God. That learning how to best accomplish and appreciate the same Goods all together could be His plan for us. Even as each can only do some thing from their own unique platform of experience and truth. Thus we often struggle rather than evenly celebrate loving generosity and sacrifice for others. I after living through three different time periods or states of mind that me calls heart brain heartsoul, i want to express a conclusion I that from each challenge in my life, the kinder me actions the happier my returns I further, i think everyone knows Good when we feel it and that every one of us, from deep inside our being, strives to do the best that we can I that which is also approved by OUR own personal knowledge of the Almighty I I these marks on each page I drawings and words, rendering s all I some defined more than others I are they just my misdreamings or mistaken understandings or translations of inputs from beyond earthly sight? I i do not know I so please pause or stop unfinished when or wherever enough of this project be plenty enough help your seeing of eye to eye I your inspiration to color cut paste and/or assemble as you please for peaceful sharing with everyone else I so to better each view of mine I so to hold hands during the most individual creation of every new version of Goodness there be that you see
