Tips & Safety
Information

Yours for Safekeeping

Keeping kids safe for 15+ years.

Dear Parents,

In a perfect world, our children would be safe from all harm. They could play with friends and go off to school without any worries or concerns. Of course, this is the real world. We have to do our best to prepare them in case they are ever threatened or are in danger.

This booklet was created to do just that. It helps you teach your children how to react in various everyday situations. It also contains a personal identification section, complete with a fingerprinting kit, to help you keep up-to-date information about your kids.

Sit down and discuss these safety tips a little at a time. Keep rules simple to match your child's level of maturity. Take advantage of teachable moments. Invite them to share their fears, so you can ease their concerns. Most of all, remind them that they can always come to you no matter what happens or who is involved. Tell them you will always be there for them.

Have fun and stay safe!

9 Tips for Keeping Your Children Safe.

1 Talk to your kids about street safety.

Tell your kids that if they ever find themselves in an uncomfortable situation to get away as quickly as possible and to tell someone they trust what happened.

4 Supervise your children in public.

Kids should only use public restrooms when accompanied by a trusted adult. If they get lost in a store or mall, tell them to go to someone who works there for help.

7 Have your kids walk with a buddy.

There really is safety in numbers.

2 Avoid buying products that bear your child's name.

If someone calls him or her by name, your child may think a stranger could be a friend.

5 Suggest safe places to play.

Kids should never play alone in a park. Suggest safe places to go if they feel threatened.

8 Point out safe houses in your neighborhood.

Walk your child to school or the bus stop and show them homes on your block they can run to if they sense any danger. Make a plan for where to go if they can't get into your house.

3 Meet your kids' friends.

Get to know the kids your child likes and get together with their parents, too. Share your feelings about safety and discuss the rules each of you have for your children.

6 Teach telephone safety.

Tell your kids not to tell a caller their name or give any information about your family.

9 Stay close to the phone.

Have your children call you when they arrive at a friend's house, when they're ready to come home, or when they get home and you're at work.

How to make a good print

- 1 Remove the top layer of plastic.
- 2 Create practice prints in the area below. Start with one thumb or finger at a time, covering the entire fingertip with ink. Place the finger directly on the fingerprint grid and firmly roll the finger from side-to-side. Create the imprint without smudging. It is a good idea to practice a few times before you make the final prints.
- 3 Repeat process for each finger. Ink will wash off with soap and water and is not harmful if ingested.

McGruff® Safe Kids No-Cost DNA Tips

EASY as 1, 2, 3 DNA Collection Tips

1 Here's what you'll need:

- One new paper envelope
- An ink pen or permanent marking pen

2 Here's what to do:

- Clip your child's fingernails and/or toenails and place them in envelope.

3 Then:

- Attach the envelope containing the DNA samples (toenails and/or fingernails) to the My Personal Record section of the McGruff Safe Kids ID Kit.
- Date and place the My Personal Record section containing the nail samples into an envelope, write your child's name on the envelope, and keep it in a cool dry place. When that's complete – you're done!

VERY IMPORTANT: Mark your child's name on the envelope containing his or her DNA sample.

UPDATES: You should update your child's photograph and the DNA sample every six months.

DNA collection method recommended by the United States Department of Justice DNA specialist, State of California.

What if...

One of the best ways to teach rules is to ask children hypothetical questions about what they would do in certain situations. Here are a few suggestions, and you can come up with some others.

What if...you were walking to or from the bus stop and a car slowed down or stopped next to you and the driver or passenger tried to talk to you? What would you do?

Suggest they quickly run in the direction from which the car was coming, because it takes awhile for a car to turn around. Tell them to run to where people are—to a neighbor's house or to someone working in a yard—to ask for help.

What if...A stranger or someone you don't know well tells you Mom or Dad is hurt and they asked this person to come and get you. What would you do?

Agree with your kids on a password that can be used in situations like this.

Bullying Signs

Be alert to these signs

- Does my child fear going to school? Is he or she avoiding school by claiming to be sick more often than seems normal?
- Does my child have more than a usual amount of cuts and bruises from active play?
- Have there been changes in my child's social life? Does he or she seem to be spending more time alone than before?
- Does my child seem unhappy, anxious or insecure?
- Does my child seem to lack confidence and have difficulty being assertive?

If you suspect that your child is being bullied, stay calm! Talk with your child reassuringly, and get as many facts as you can about the bullying behavior. Encourage them to enlist their friends for mutual protection.

In Case of Emergency...

Emergency phone numbers should be posted near the telephone and within reach of children. Make sure they know your full names, street address and the name and number of a close friend or relative. Babysitters should also have safety information.

Teach your children what to do in an emergency. Talk about different kinds of emergencies and how they should handle them. They should know it's OK to dial 911 if they think they are in any danger.

Calling 911

Stay calm, pick up the phone and wait for the dial tone. Then dial 911. On a cell phone, press 911, then send.

Tell the person who answers what is wrong. Speak clearly. Give them your name and try to give your exact street address or location.

Don't hang up the phone until instructed to do so.

Internet Safety/Social Media

Basic Internet safety rules all kids should know

- Don't give anyone your password, name, address, the name of your school or any information about your family.
- Don't talk to strangers on the Internet or agree to meet anyone in person that you've met online.
- Don't fill in a profile about yourself that asks for your name and/or address.
- Don't visit a chat room without your parent's permission.
- Don't stay online if you see something that makes you feel uncomfortable or has adult content.

Useful information about social networking sites

Social networking sites are public spaces; everything you post there can be seen by the whole online world. What you share is really a permanent display of your personal information, whether that is a photo, a comment about somebody, your diary or blog, or videos. It's all stuff that can haunt you later in life.

Remember, you should not give out your name, passwords, address, school name, e-mail address, Social Security number or phone number to anyone!

A person who contacts you and claims to be an innocent 12-year-old may not be 12 or as innocent as he or she would have you believe.

Parents

Don't be afraid to look at what your kids are posting to these sites and help them make appropriate postings.

Social Network Information and Safety Tips

Online social networking sites are hugely popular with teens. These sites allow you to communicate with the world in fun and interesting ways, but it is important to remain safe when doing so.

Last Will & Testament Kit

Will Writing Instruction & Guidance

United States

About the Will & Testament

Why do you need to write a will?

Having a will prepared is one of the most important things you can do for your family after you pass on. By doing so, a will can legally protect your children, spouse, and assets. On top of that, it can also set forth your wishes on how things should be handled after you pass on. Most commonly, people have a will prepared to decide how to distribute their estate, who will take care of their child(ren), avoiding a cumbersome probate process, to make gifts and donations, and disinherit any individual who would otherwise stand to inherit their estate and property.

What are the next steps?

For you to process your No-Cost Last Will & Testament, you need to complete this kit. Once you complete the kit, you will need to go to www.americawills.com to finish your No-Cost Will & Testament.

Is my information protected?

Your privacy is important and this will collects highly sensitive information. We value you as a client and we will take all appropriate measures to protect the information collected from you. Everything is confidential and will never be released to any third party. We only request information essential to help you create your No-Cost Last Will & Testament. Always use the secure link at the beginning or end of this kit to take this information and generate your No-Cost Last Will & Testament.

Disclaimers

Once finished, this kit will NOT be your official will. At the end of this kit, you will be directed to America Wills, a website that helps you prepare and generate your free will, in which the information given here helps to fill out your official will. All questions applicable need to be completed in their entirety to have your will prepared.

The final will, produced at www.americawills.com/willkit, meets state requirements if it is completed, signed, and witnessed in accordance with the directions provided in the website.

If you have any questions while filling out this kit, please reach out to us at info@nocostlaw.com.

Child's Name	Relationship	Birth Date

Are there any deceased children? ☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please fill out info below:

Child's Name	Relationship	Birth Date

Any reason to treat your children other than equally? ☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please explain:

Step 4: Guardianship

In the event of your death, who should be the guardian of your minor children? (A guardian has physical and legal control over your children until they reach the age of eighteen)

First Choice:

Name:	Relationship:
Address:

Second Choice:

Step 6: Bequests

A bequest is the act of giving (not the act of receiving) property by will. To help you decide how to give away your property, there are four common types of bequests. Use at least one or as many of the four bequests you require to explain how you would you would like to distribute your property.

Specific Bequests: A specific bequest is a gift or specific item of property. For example, specifically providing a family heirloom (painting, diamond ring, etc.) for your daughter is a specific bequest, and can be easily distinguishable from all other property in your estate.

Please add any specific bequests in your will here:

Charity Bequests: A charitable bequest is simply a distribution from your estate to a charitable organization through your Last Will & Testament. However, there are different kinds of charitable bequests. Use very specific language to indicate the precise direction of your assets and to successfully carry out your wishes - name the recipient accurately. A bequest to Red Cross might go to national headquarters when you intended for it to go to a local affiliate in your area.

Please add any charity percentage gifts in your will here:

General Bequests: A general bequest is a testamentary gift that is paid out of the general assets of the estate. For example, making a $5,000 bequest to your niece would be a general bequest.

Please add any general bequests in your will here:

Residuary Bequests: The amount remaining in the estate after payment of the administration expenses, creditors’ claims, and other dispositions’ specific, demonstrative and general bequests. For example, the balance of your estate is to be distributed as follows: 25% to your niece, 25% to your son, 25% to your daughter, and 25%, split amongst your siblings.

Please add any residuary bequests here:

Alternative Beneficiaries

If persons receiving the specific percentage or estate predeceased you, who is to receive that specific percentage? For example, if the person receiving it is your niece and she predeceases you, then who should receive it?

Person/charity/org	Relationship	% Share

Do you wish to disinherit anyone? ☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please list any individuals below:

Step 7: Burial/Cremation

Do you want “burial instructions” to be included in your will? ☐ Yes ☐ No

This portion can be handwritten and attached to your Last Will & Testament at a later date, or you can provide the information now.

Cremation Instructions: If you choose cremation and know what you want done with your ashes, you can list your final wishes here.

Burial Instructions: If you have purchased a plot or made any other arrangements, you can list your final wishes here.

This Privacy Policy (or “Policy”) explains how Safe Life Network LLC (“SLN,” “Company,” “we,” or “us”) collects, uses, stores, and protects your information whenever you use the SLN Services, as the SLN Services are described in our Terms of Service. By using the SLN Services, you consent to the data practices prescribed in this Policy. We may periodically post changes to this Policy on this page by revising the date at the top of this Policy, and it is your responsibility to review this Privacy Policy, and we encourage you to visit this page often.

Information You Provide to Us

We collect information you provide to us, including but not limited to when you register for an account, complete a transaction, link an external account to the Services, sign up to receive our email updates, fill out a form, or when you communicate with us. The types of information we may collect include your name, phone number, email address, username, password, government-issued identification numbers and/or copies of government-issued identification cards, services or products requested, and any other information you choose to provide.

Information We Collect Automatically from our Services

When you use our Services, we automatically collect information about you as follows:

- Transaction Information: We collect information in connection with each transaction you engage in via the Services, including transaction time, amount of transaction, counterparties to each transaction (if any), and other transaction details.
- Log Information: We collect standard server logs in connection with your use of our Services, including the type of browser you use, access times, pages viewed, IP address, and the web page you visited before navigating to, or after navigation away from, the SLN Site.
- Device Information: We collect information about the computer or mobile device you use to access our Services, including the hardware model, operating system and version, unique device identifiers, and mobile network information.
- Location Information: With your permission, we collect precise location from your mobile device in connection with your use of our mobile app. We may also derive your approximate location from your IP address.
- Information Collected by Tracking Technologies: We may use various technologies to collect information in connection with your use of our Services. The technologies we use include the following:
 - o Cookies, which are small files that are sent to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. Cookies allow our SLN Services to recognize your browser or device and track your usage each time you visit. You can usually decline or remove cookies through your browser or device, but doing so may interfere with your use of SLN Services; and
 - o Local storage, which stores data locally in your browser, including user preferences; and
 - o Pixel tags, which are small blocks of code often used in connection with cookies. Pixel tags (or web beacons) may be placed on our websites and emails, and allow us to track website usage, including to determine when emails have been opened and acted upon.

Information From Other Sources

We collect information from other companies and associate that with the information we collect about you. For example, in connection with your creation of an account, we may collect information about you from identity verification services, including your prior addresses and names. Also, if you use your credentials from a third-party social media service to log into your SLN Services account, we may collect information from that service, such as your name and other account information, in accordance with the authorization procedures determined by that service.

SLN takes reasonable measures designed to protect the information we collect from loss, theft, misuse, and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. In particular, we implement reasonable security practices and procedures designed to protect the confidentiality and security of this information in accordance with, and prohibit disclosure other than as permitted by, this privacy policy. We also use reasonable measures designed to limit access to the information we collect about you to employees that have a business reason to know such information..

SLN is based in the United States and the information we collect is governed by U.S. law. By accessing or using our Services or otherwise providing information to us, you consent to the processing and transfer of information in and to the U.S. and other countries, where you may not have the same rights as you do under local law. Where this is the case, we will take appropriate measures to protect information about you in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

We may use your information to:

- Provide, maintain, and improve the SLN Services;
- Process transactions and send notices about your transactions;
- Resolve disputes, troubleshoot problems, and provide customer service;
- Prevent and investigate violations of our terms and conditions and protect the rights and property of SLN and others;
- Measure, and monitor trends, activities, and usage of the SLN Services;
- Personalize the SLN Services, including by delivering targeted content or advertisements;
- Send you targeted marketing, and promotional offers we think will be of interest to you;
- Verify your identity; and
- Carry out any other purpose described to you at the time the information was collected.

We may also disclose any information we collect about current and former customers with non-affiliated third parties as follows:

(1) With non-financial companies and financial service providers that perform services on our behalf, including identity verification services, fraud prevention services, and email marketing services;

(2) With other companies as permitted by law and for our everyday business purposes, such as to process transactions, maintain accounts, respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus. For example, in connection with our everyday business purposes or as permitted by law, we may share information about you as follows:

§ To comply with an applicable law or regulation, or in response to a request for information if we believe disclosure is in accordance with any applicable law, regulation, or legal process;

§ To protect against or prevent actual or potential fraud, unauthorized transactions, claims, or other liability;

§ To protect the rights, property, and safety of SLN or others;

§ In connection with a proposed or actual sale, merger, transfer, or exchange of all or a portion of SLN's assets to another company; and

§ With your consent or at your direction, including if we notify you that the information you provide will be shared in a particular manner and you provide such information.

(3) We may also share aggregated or de-identified information, which cannot reasonably be used to identify you.

(4) We may also include your information in the leads that are sold to fulfillment agencies in order to complete and deliver requested products and services. We do not sell your information to third parties, but only to fulfillment companies and agents that we work with to deliver requested products and services.

The Services may offer social sharing features and other integrated tools (such as the Facebook “Like” button), which let you share actions you take on our Services with other media, and vice versa. Your use of such features enables the sharing of information with your friends or the public, depending on the settings you establish with the entity that provides the social sharing feature. For more information about the purpose and scope of data collection and processing in connection with social sharing features, please visit the privacy policies of the entities that provide these features. By associating an account managed by a third party with your SLN account and authorizing SLN to have access to this information, you agree that SLN may collect, store, and use this information in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

We may allow others to provide analytics services and serve advertisements on our behalf. These entities may use cookies, web beacons, device identifiers, and other technologies to collect information about your use of the Services and other websites and online services, including your IP address, web browser, mobile network information, pages viewed, time spent on pages or in apps, links clicked, and conversion information. This information may be used by SLN and others to, among other things, analyze and track data, determine the popularity of certain content, deliver advertising and content targeted to your interests on our Services and other websites or online services, and better understand your online activity. You may be able to opt out of having third parties use your web browsing information for behavioral advertising purposes, by visiting www.aboutads.info/choices. You may also be able to opt out of having third parties use information collected through apps for behavioral advertising purposes by visiting your mobile device operating system settings.

Account Information

You may access and update your account profile information by logging into your account via our Services. When you close your account, we may retain certain information as required by law or for our legitimate business purposes. We may also retain cached or archived copies of information about you for a certain period of time.

Promotional Communications

You may opt out of receiving promotional communications from SLN by following the instructions in those messages. Please note that if you opt out, we may still send you transactional or relationship messages, such as those about your account or our ongoing business relations.

Location Information

If you initially consent to the collection of precise location information by SLN via our mobile app, you should be able to subsequently stop this collection through your device operating system settings or by removing our mobile app from your device. You understand and agree that disabling location information may limit the SLN Services available to you.

Cookies and Local Storage

Most web browsers are set to accept cookies and local storage by default. If you prefer, you can usually choose to set your browser to remove browser cookies or clear local storage. Please note that if you choose to remove or reject these technologies, this could affect the availability and functionality of our Services.

Mobile Push Notifications/Alerts. With your consent, we may send promotional and non-promotional push notifications or alerts to your mobile device. You should be able to stop receiving these messages by changing the notification settings on your mobile device.
