X-RAY

The new digital x-ray machine has been installed and passed inspection! Chiropractic care uses spinal manipulation and other techniques that involve movement of skeletal components with the hands or with the use of an instrument and an x-ray can show a chiropractor exactly what is happening in the body in terms of alignment and structure. The x-ray conveys some other information too, such as the presence of scar tissue or arthritis in a given area, both occurrences that need to be considered when forming the treatment plan.
