Childcare Highlights

As we dive into the new year, our childcare program is buzzing with energy and excitement. Some of the highlights coming up this month include:

- Exploring the World of Numbers and Letters: Our little ones are embarking on a journey of discovery through themed activities centered around American National Parks that make learning about numbers and letters a fun experience.
- Artistic Adventures: Creative expression is so integral to childhood development and our budding artists are experimenting with colors, shapes, and textures to bring their imaginations to life. They will be working on a few projects this month with our grandparents so make sure to ask them what they created!
- Music and Singing: This month, there will be plenty of musical opportunities available for the kids to be fully immersed. Between our very own Joe working with our children's choir and some of our amazing musical guests during IG time this month, they will be very busy exploring and enjoying music!

FINAL THOUGHTS

We are truly excited about the possibilities that the new year holds for our Gentog family. Through this newsletter, we aim to keep you informed & involved in the enriching experiences that your children and our seniors are part of every day.

Thank you for entrusting us with the care and development of your loved ones. We look forward to creating many more cherished moments together in the coming year.
