

Meet Cori Lojo, Esq.

Neighborhood Advocacy Project is a 501(c)(3) non-profit, joins Donaldson Edge (D-Edge Consulting, LLC. to offer legal equity for all. One identifying social determinant of health many families and communities face is their ability to retain affordable, legal counsel.

Neighborhood Advocacy Project offers a sliding-scale law firm in Pensacola, Florida. Led by Founder & Attorney Cori Lojo. NAP provides affordable and holistic legal services to those of limited means in our community.

NAP offers income-based, flat-rate fees for the following types of cases:

- Criminal Misdemeanor
- Criminal Felony
- Juvenile Delinquency

NAP also offers legal assistance in the following areas:

- Record Sealing & Expunction
- Driver's License Reinstatement
- Family Law Pro Se document preparation

Rates are determined by applying the client's income to the Federal Poverty Guidelines. In offering income-based fees, NAP increases access to justice and gives quality representation to those who wouldn't normally be able to afford an attorney. Visit our website to see our sliding-scale and if you qualify for services.
