FULL DESCRIPTION

 Shield of the Hollow — Bloodroot
The Working of Sacred Protection
Old Spirits, Wild Roots | First Night Hollow

Shield of the Hollow is a powerful ritual oil created for protection, spiritual boundaries, energetic defense, and the unwavering guarding of what is sacred.

Crafted at First Night Hollow from Bloodroot, this working carries an ancient and formidable energy — one associated with vigilance, discernment, and standing firm against forces that seek to cross where they are not welcome.

Bloodroot has long held a reputation in folk traditions as a plant of intensity, potency, and protective seriousness. Emerging early from the forest floor with its striking white bloom and deep red sap, it embodies both fragility and fierce defense — a reminder that sacred things are not without power.

This is not an oil of softness.
It is an oil of boundaries.

Of drawing the line clearly.
Of reclaiming spiritual territory.
Of protecting peace without apology.

Shield of the Hollow is especially suited for threshold work, protective rituals, spiritual cleansing, and maintaining energetic sovereignty during difficult seasons.

It whispers:
Guard what is sacred. Not everything deserves access to your spirit.
