

Rescue Medicines

Pro-Air
Albuterol Sulfate
Inhaler

Ventolin
Albuterol Sulfate
Inhaler

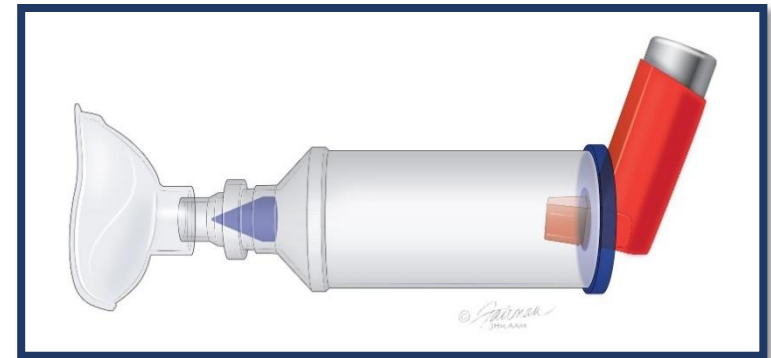

Proventil
Albuterol Sulfate
Inhaler

Accuneb
Albuterol Sulfate
Nebulizer

Albuterol is the most common rescue medicine for asthma. This is a short-acting medicine that should start to work within 10 to 15 minutes. Talk to your doctor about how often to use this medicine – it should not be used to prevent symptoms. It may be prescribed to be taken using either an inhaler or a nebulizer.

All children prescribed an inhaler rescue medicine should use a spacer.