Loctite Poly Tree Rope

- Uniquely constructed in that the individual monofilaments are bonded together by a tough spiral wrap
- This special construction makes possible a strong single ply tree rope with bulk to better hold knots
- Has excellent abrasion resistance. *It is flexible to quickly and easily secure and reinforce fruit laden branches and it can be retied as conditions warrant
- Since Loctite tree rope is a synthetic product, it is virtually unaffected by climate conditions and will not rot or mildew
- Saves the grower money on tree rope requirements because its use is amortized for more than one season as opposed to conventional natural fiber tree ropes
- Average tensile strength 620 lbs.
- Black in color to better withstand sunlight
- 950' per roll, 8 rolls in a bale
