WHAT'S COOKING

A LITTLE GIVING BACK

CATTY SHACK RANCH
WILDLIFE SANCTUARY

This Tuesday, Chef Ellie will be stepping away from the kitchen for Hospitality Industry's annual Day of Service—a chance for hospitality professionals across the country to give back to causes in their communities.

This year, we'll be volunteering at Catty Shack Ranch Wildlife Sanctuary, helping with enclosure upkeep for some pretty big cats!

I'm excited to spend the day getting my hands dirty and supporting a local organization doing incredible work.

Don't worry—the Kitchen will operate as usual! Madison and Laura will be holding things down while I'm away. If you haven't ordered your lunch online in advance, just stop by and check in with them to make sure we can get you taken care of.

One important note: there will be
NO DINNER MENU THIS WEEK.
Dinners will return next week!

As always, thank you for supporting The Kitchen
