

The Game is Rigged

THREE DAY DEVOTIONAL

S. PINARD

Day 1

What level are you currently on?

You have to know where you are in order to understand what your task may be. Is God calling you to one level and you're pushing to be on another? Ask yourself why that may be? Use the lines below or your journal

The Book of Jonah

Day 2

What are the current setbacks, and pauses I am experiencing?

Are you neglecting something else because you are focused on one task? What if God needs you for another task? Take an inventory of all that is going on; most specifically with the loved ones around you. Are you asking God for a great relationship/marriage but can't even get along with your sister, mother, aunt, father? God wants that which is whole, which is healed for you, so you have to work on being that for yourself.

The Story of Joseph

Genesis 37:12- Ch41

Day 3

What level does God keep taking you back to beginning on?

Do you feel stuck? Are you asking God why can't you let this go? Why is this hurt still here? Now ask yourself are you truly giving all your pieces to God or have you made up your mind on how certain things need to go. Those might be the things we need help in conquering that are keeping us stuck on this level. Use the lines below to write out your thoughts on this
