

What is a Ledger?

Patch the Catch Explained

The Patch the Catch Ledger is your personal record of truth — a place to log every capture that matters.

Not screenshots. Not phone notes. Ink, card and memory.

It works like an old shop ledger:

- you write the weight
- you mark the date
- you draw the circle around the number that matters
- and you build your fishing history one page at a time

Every patch, sticker and certificate has somewhere to live — no more forgotten PBs, no more random scraps of paper, no more “I think it was about six-something.”

This is where your angling story is stored properly.

The sleeves at the front hold your achievements:

- Club Joined certificates
- PB certificates
- Tier upgrades
- Photo keepsakes

The working pages are for the graft:

- sessions
- weights
- rivers
- swims
- bait notes

Honest catches, recorded by hand.

No stock-pond fantasy.

No bragging without ink.

Over time, the ledger becomes a history book — a timeline of where you've been, what you've landed and how far you've come.

It isn't about perfection.

It's about proof, pride and progress.

Log your story.

Build your legacy.

And leave a record worth reading.
