

Hernando County Cattlewomen

Membership Application

Frequent Questions:

Q: Do I have to own cattle to become a member?

A: No, you do not. You simply need to have a love for the cattle industry even if that just means you like to eat steak!

Q: Who is a Cattlewoman and what does she do?

A: A Cattlewoman is any woman or young lady interested in the promotion and welfare of the livestock industry. We focus on the success of the beef industry by the promotion of beef consumption, sharing recipes and nutritional information about beef products at public events. We educate our members, and the public about the Beef industry's environmental and animal welfare practices. We do community service by reaching out into the community to help educate, such as reading to children at school, or volunteering in other areas of need in the community. We leave a legacy by passing on the pride in caring for cattle to future generations by educating them on the industry and how to be good stewards of the land as well as providing scholarships for them to further their education in the agricultural industry. We fellowship by coming together and having a good time! In addition to our monthly meetings we gather at social events with Cattlewomen and men across the state forming friendships that last a lifetime. We also reach out and help each other in times of need, anything from an extra hand in the field or an encouraging hug to help push through a hard time.

Q: When and where do you meet?

A: We typically meet the 2nd Thursday of the month at 6:00 PM at Stable Faith Cowboy Church: 12077 Broad St. Brooksville, FL 34601.

Occasionally our meeting dates / times and location may change. Be sure to check our Facebook page for information regarding that month's meeting
