El Rancho Charter School has a long-standing commitment to providing students with a robust and comprehensive arts education program. Through Proposition 28, Arts and Music in Schools funding, the school has been able to expand its arts offerings and increase opportunities for students to learn, participate, and engage in a variety of disciplines, including dance, instrumental music, visual arts, and media arts. Since receiving Proposition 28 funding in 2023-24, El Rancho Charter School has added additional teaching sections across all arts disciplines, allowing greater student access to high-quality arts instruction. To support the growth of these programs, the school has also increased classified staff support to assist with instructional and program needs. Continued funding through Proposition 28 enables the school to sustain and build upon the expansion efforts initiated with the grant's implementation. El Rancho Charter School remains committed to meeting the requirement that at least 80 percent of funds be used to provide arts education instruction. Additionally, as enrollment and course offerings have increased, the school has invested in the supplies, materials, and resources necessary to support student projects, foster creativity, and enhance the overall learning experience in the arts.
