

The magic chicken foot!

Chicken feet are used in the arts of Voodoo, Hoodoo, and Juju as a Charm for a powerful form of protection.

I certainly believe in magic and I love to make these for my loved ones.

I've been taught how to choose the feet that speak to me.

Once I get them home I cleanse them as I tell them my intentions. This is done with love and prayer.

Next they are properly dehydrated and sealed with paint and special decorations I choose for them.

People like to hang these in their homes, cars, or place of work.

The door is where most people place these.

To protect your home.

Protect you while you're in the car.

Keep you safe while at work.

I place bells on most of mine. It's said that when a chicken is fighting off evil or an enemy you can hear it scratching away!

Bells, beads, stones, shells etc. all make noise to confirm you are safe.
