The Chicago Association for Microcomputer Professionals provides a number of opportunities for enhancing the technical/managerial abilities of Midwest micro-managers and MIS developers. Frequent seminars provide intensive education. A Conference/Vendor Fair provides major speakers (e.g., Bill Gates) and vendor exhibits. For the past five years, C.A.M.P. has been providing subscription series involving four-hour afternoon sessions. If you can't attend the seminar but want a membership form, check the box on the enclosed registration form.

A sample of the 1989 program includes:

April 25	dBase, Foxbase, Clipper	Optimizing Windows
May 9	LAN database issues/choices;	OS/2 LAN Manager, Novell
May 23	OS/2 Presentation Manager	OS/2 Database Manager
June 27	Desktop Publishing.	High Resolution Monitors
	Optical Character Recognition

Each of the sessions also includes discussion on six to ten additional topics. An open forum for attendee questions is also provided.
