

Austin Heights Church in Nacogdoches, Texas, is searching for its next pastor.

We are a progressive, intellectually engaged Baptist congregation seeking a pastor who will join us in nurturing a vibrant, inclusive, and spiritually grounded community. We value authenticity, deep relationships, thoughtful preaching, and a faith that engages the world with compassion and courage.

Nacogdoches, Texas, is the historically oldest town in Texas, founded over 300 years ago. Austin Heights Church was founded in the 1970's by a group of like-minded professors from Stephen F. Austin State University who wanted a place to worship where everyone was welcome and worshiped in the Baptist tradition.
