State Fire Marshal Classes

State Fire Marshals Office has started offering classes around the state for building certifications. The following links can be used to find information and sign up for classes ENVISAGE Acadis® \(acadisonline.com\).

This is a good resource for in person classes and training for those looking for certifications.

Fees for In Person Classes

The Board meet on February 15 and one item of discussion was concerning fees for classes. The board voted unanimously to start charging $15 per person per class for those classes 4 hours or less. For the classes 4 hours or more the fee will be $25 per person per class. These fees will help cover the cost of hosting in person classes. All online classes will still be free!

New State Laws

New state laws have went into affect as of July 1st. One of the biggest changes is House Bill 799 which is where the state has adopted the 2018 Energy Code with some of the 2009 Amendments. Make yourself familiar with all newly adopted laws.

JOB POSTING

Thompson Station is looking for a Building Inspector I. See job description by clicking on the Link.

If any jurisdiction has anything or anyone they would like to highlight in the newsletter please email at board@mtcoa.org.

Reminder that we will be hosting the 1st annual Inspectors Expo in November. If anyone has any vendors interested in attending or your interested in volunteering that day please email and let us know!
