

Breathe

Words and Music by Timothy Carman/Leon Ellis

Genesis came to dinner last night
And he lectured on the fall of man

In between bites of asparagus
He spoke of Satan's plan

He said that death's a spiritual force
That rules the unredeemed

I took this all in stride of course
And reminded myself to breathe

I reminded myself to breathe

Illustrated in technicolor by Michelangelo
I sit here on my sofa as good and evil court my soul
