Unveiling the Great Lakes Region Butterflies

Have you ever wondered about the dazzling butterflies flitting through Northwest Indiana's meadows and gardens? Would you like to see more? Join us as Dolly Foster explores the fascinating world of these winged beauties! She will delve into the lives of local butterfly species, from the vibrant Monarch to the delicate Eastern Tiger Swallowtail. Discover the vital role they play in the ecosystem and learn how the plants we choose can create a butterfly haven in our own backyards. She will discuss the specific flowering plants that attract and sustain these incredible creatures, ensuring a vibrant dance of color in your own green space.

Dolly Foster Landscape Horticulturist & Master Gardener

Dolly Foster, Landscape Horticulturist, has been a Master Gardener for 24 years, an Indiana Accredited Horticulturist for 22 and a Certified Arborist since 2008. For the past 24 years, Dolly has been presenting lectures on many gardening topics. She spent four years as an adjunct faculty member of the Joliet Junior College Agriculture/ Horticulture Department and 18 years in the Parks and Recreation industry as staff horticulturist for two park districts. She has been butterfly gardening from the very beginning of her gardening career. Her passion has led her to raising monarch and swallowtail butterflies for over 16 years. Her garden at home has been a Monarch Waystation since 2011.
