Become a Mental Wellness and Harm Reduction worker with an 8 month diploma in Winnipeg.

Are you an Indigenous person who has had contact with the justice system? Are you interested in gaining a credential as a social service worker as a way of contributing to your community? Become a Mental Wellness and Harm Reduction worker with an 8 month diploma in Winnipeg.

LINKS Institute, The Native Clan Organization, The Indigenous Women's Healing Centre, and The Onashowewin Justice Circle are partnering to provide an in-person/blended/hybrid offering of this program at The Native Clan Organization's Logan community program space.

LOCATION:

NATIVE CLAN ORGANIZATION

Unit 110 - 424 LOGAN AVE, WINNIPEG, MB

Students will be provided with transportation assistance, breakfast, lunch and Elder/Knowledge Keeper access. Students will build relationships with the Indigenous justice groups involved as a way of possible entry into the labor market in social service worker positions.

Students will be assisted by LINKS Institute to apply for funding. Groups interested in supporting students with funding should contact application@links-institute.ca

To register or for more information, email application@links-institute.ca
