To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to enthusiastically recommend Shirene Khandpur, who was a dedicated and impactful member of our campaign team for Senator Manka Dhingra's run for Attorney General. As Manka's Campaign Manager, I had the pleasure of working closely with Shirene, and I can confidently say that her contributions, passion, and commitment made a significant difference during our campaign.

Shirene's support for Manka began in 2017, when she first attended an event at Senator Eric Oemig's home. Her belief in Manka's work, especially as a woman of color, aligns closely with her own values and the causes she champions through her non-profit organization. Throughout the campaign, Shirene's dedication to equity and justice was evident, even as we faced challenges.

During the campaign, Shirene demonstrated a remarkable ability to engage with both our team and the community. She attended key events like the Fourth of July parade alongside the 45th LD Democrats, supported our fundraising efforts, and participated in phone banking. Her standout contribution was organizing and hosting a fundraiser at her home in Kirkland, which brought together over 40 attendees and raised $4,550 for our campaign. This event was a success, showcasing Shirene's organizational skills, ability to rally community support, and her unwavering dedication to the campaign's goals.

In addition to her fundraising efforts, Shirene provided invaluable support by writing memos, making phone calls, and actively participating in outreach activities. Her enthusiasm and positive attitude made her a pleasure to work with, and her eagerness to learn more about campaigning was evident in every task she took on.

What sets Shirene apart is her passion for making a meaningful difference. Even though our campaign concluded after the primary, her commitment to our shared values never wavered. I have no doubt that her drive and determination will lead her to great success in future endeavors. Shirene's natural ability to connect with people, combined with her desire for positive change, makes her a valuable asset wherever she chooses to apply her talents.

It has been a privilege to work with Shirene, and I am excited to see all that she will accomplish in the future. I strongly recommend Shirene Khandpur without reservation and believe she will thrive in any endeavor she undertakes.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need further information.

Sincerely,
