Fall riding, she thought, wasn’t about beating the wind or chasing the last of the daylight. It was about being prepared, staying visible, slowing down for changing conditions, and leaving enough room for surprises.

Behind her, leaves swirled across the quiet street. Mara smiled. The best ride was the one that brought her safely home.

Robert G & Angela

Safe Travels!!!