Unfortunately, we are not able to do any modifications or changes to the campers during production once we start the order. We are not able to take anything out of the insides or leave anything out as all the cabinets, bed, couch and bathroom will be in the unit. The twin bed setup is available but has a different cost and I can go over that with you. For right now we are only building the Snoozy II with our current options and Blue prints. We want to make sure we can build you a Snoozy II in the time we have allotted for you. This will limit us on doing custom things inside your Snoozy II. We are exploring and testing everyday so as new things come available you will for sure know. As of right now we are just going to build the camper as it has always been built giving someone the options that are listed.
