MPR NEWS FEATURE

STAR House was fortunate to contribute to this MPR News article, alongside Ivy House New Ulm and Mankato Area Crisis Nursery, highlighting the importance of crisis nurseries in Minnesota.

"There were no other options for most families who are introduced into the child protection system and we really want to help families rely on their own resilience without having to go through that method." - Sarah Ellefson, STAR House Board President

The article talks about the shortage of child care services for those relying on them and how crisis nurseries, though still few in Minnesota, are working to fill in the gap.
