

Flea Prep Sheet

Successful control of a flea infestation relies heavily on customer participation. We ask that you perform the tasks on the list below before and after the service professional arrives to perform the treatment.

Before The Service

- Vacuum all floors, carpet, rugs, upholstery (especially under cushions) under beds and in the closets. Empty the contents of the vacuum in a plastic bag and throw away in an outside trash receptacle.
- Remove all items from floors, the bottom of closets and under the bed.
 - Mop all vinyl, linoleum, tile and wood floors thoroughly.
- Wash (in hot water) and dry (in drier at high heat setting) or replace all pet bedding.
 - Pick up all pet food and litter boxes from floors.
- Arrange to have your pet(s) treated by appropriate veterinarian the same day of service.
- Cover aquariums with a heavy towel and disconnect the air pump. (If the pump cannot be disconnected then the aquarium should be removed from treatment site.)
- All people and pets need to remain out of the treatment area until the treatment has dried (usually 4 hours) and the area has been ventilated properly.
- Turn off the air conditioning or heater prior to exiting the premise.

After The Service

- DO NOT return to the treatment site until the treatment has dried.
 - Open windows, turn on air conditioning and/or turn on fans to ventilate the area.
- Vacuum carpets and rugs daily or as often as possible (we suggest that vacuuming be done at least once a day for 14 days). After each vacuum place contents into a plastic bag and place in an outside trash receptacle. Vacuuming will stimulate flea movement so they will come into contact with treated area and speed up the treatment process.
- DO NOT shampoo your carpets, rugs, or upholstery for at least 2 weeks (it will remove the treatment).
- Bag launder your garments on hot cycle to kill any fleas or eggs that may be on them.
 - You may see fleas for up to 14 days after the treatment.

Customer Signature

Customer Print

Service Professional Signature

Service Professional Print

Date

