

Dear Community Partner:

Bonneville Football Academy is coming to Orlando! We are inviting you to join our inaugural season and to help young men achieve their goals post-high school.

The last couple years have been hard on everyone. Imagine doing everything “right” towards your goal of attending college and playing football and then, by no fault of your own, not achieving your goals. Many things have affected high school athletes and changed how the recruiting process works including the transfer portal and marketing/recruiting moving more to an online platform. Add to that, many students not able to play due to school closures, quarantine and sadly this has left many student athletes overlooked and disappointed in not achieving the goals they worked so hard towards.

We’d love for you to take a moment and visit our website <https://bonnevillefootballacademy.com> to learn more about how we help student-athletes who require another year to develop their portfolio academically and/or on the gridiron. Our program is unique as we offer an enthusiastic daily schedule consisting of academics, internships, leadership development through community service and player development to get the athletes college ready and recruited! Our goal is to get every player a college offer and signed on early signing day in December.

Bonneville Football Academy is part of the NPGAA (National Post Grad Athletic Association) and our mission is to mentor and teach young men to give their very best in their academics, their social life and areas of competition so that they carry these lessons into life beyond football/BFA. We will focus on the complete athlete through academic-real world development, physical development, mental development and spiritual/emotional development. Our goal is to get all our student-athletes into college or trade school to pursue their life career goals.

We have sponsorships starting at just $100 for the season! Our mission would not be possible without the generosity of individuals such as yourself.
