

A memoir of Margaret Emily Brown nee Youngman written about her arrival in Belfast (Port Fairy) in 1849. This is a revised version with the whole story told for the first time in print.

$15.00

This is the story of the first 100 years of the Port Fairy Hospital and Benevolent Asylum. This is heroic story of how a small town struggled to retain its own hospital. The writing is crisp, lucid and entertaining.

$25.00

The story of fishing in Port Fairy from 1845 -1945 with stories of storms, shipwrecks and drownings. The fishing boats, the fishermen and the fish they harvested.

$30.00

This is the Story of Thomas Pearson who, between 1859 and 1866, was a lighthouse keeper at Port Fairy, and of his son, David Pearson who lost his arm while still a teenager but went on to become an outstanding cricketer and football player.

$20.00

The Port Fairy Lighthouse & A Dozen Early Keepers  Richard Patterson	Reminiscences of our Port Fairy Childhood Told by residents past and present  <small>Drawing by Phyll Fraser-Simon</small>	Growing up in Port Fairy Told by residents past and present 	Memories of a Port Fairy Childhood Told by residents past and present  <small>Drawing by Phyll Fraser-Simon</small>
Stories of the Port Fairy Lighthouse and the lives of several of the early light house keepers and keeping the light shining. $8.00	Produced in conjunction with the exhibition 'Our Port Fairy Childhood'. Tales of the local people's memories of growing up in Port Fairy. $8.00	Due to the success of the "Reminiscences of Our Port Fairy Childhood" We found more stories written by local people remembering their lives growing up in this area $8.00	This is the third booklet in the series of what life was like when our residents were children growing up in Port Fairy. $8.00

This book has been updated by the author regarding licences and information regarding some of the hotels that has come to light since the writing of the first book. There is also a comprehensive index
 $35.00

BELFAST, PORT FAIRY
1865 to 1870

Glimpses of the development, the activities, and the realities of life, through this five year period. The details are based on evidence found in the newspaper accounts and advertisements in the "Belfast Gazette".

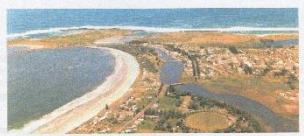

Glimpses of the development, activities and realities of life through this five year period. The details are based on newspaper accounts and advertisements in the Belfast Gazette
 $15.00

PORT FAIRY
1915 to 1920

Descriptions of activities, issues, and community development, through this eventful five year period. The details come from news printed at the time in the Port Fairy Gazette.

Glimpses of the development, activities and realities of life through this five year period. The details are based on newspaper accounts and advertisements in the Port Fairy Gazette
 Compiled by Graeme Kershaw
 $15.00

PORT FAIRY
1965 to 1970

Descriptions of activities, issues, and community development, through this five year period, using items selected from the Port Fairy Gazette.

Glimpses of the development, activities and realities of life through this five year period. The details are based on newspaper accounts and advertisements in the Port Fairy Gazette
 Compiled by Graeme Kershaw
 $15.00