

What is a Havapoo?

A Havapoo (also known as a Havadoodle or Poovanese) is an adorable designer hybrid between the Havanese and the Poodle. This mix combines the best of both breeds: the affectionate, playful personality of the Havanese and the intelligence and hypoallergenic coat of the Poodle.

Why Choose a Havapoo Puppy?

- ✓ Hypoallergenic & low-shedding coat — great for allergy sufferers!
- ✓ Intelligent & eager to please — easy to train.
- ✓ Social, loving, and playful — perfect family dogs.
- ✓ Small size — ideal for apartments and houses alike.
- ✓ Adaptable — happy lounging on the couch or going on adventures.

Typical Size & Appearance

Weight: 7–20 lbs

Height: 8–15 inches at the shoulder

Coat: Wavy or curly, soft, comes in a variety of colors (cream, black, chocolate, apricot, sable, parti, and more!)

Eyes: Dark, expressive eyes that give a teddy bear look.

Personality Traits

Sweet and cuddly companions.

Alert but not yappy — they'll let you know someone's at the door.

Great with kids, seniors, and other pets.

Thrive on human interaction; they don't like being left alone for long periods.

Health & Care

Life Expectancy: 12–16 years

Exercise Needs: Moderate — daily walks and playtime are enough.

Grooming: Brush 2–3 times a week to prevent tangles; regular trims every 6–8 weeks recommended.

Health Concerns: Generally healthy; watch for hip dysplasia, eye issues, and dental care.

Training & Socialization

Smart and eager to learn; positive reinforcement works best.

Early socialization helps them grow into confident, well-behaved adults.

Crate training and potty training usually go smoothly with patience.

Feeding

High-quality small-breed puppy food.

Divide meals into 2–3 feedings per day when young.
