design for your intelligent home

Adelante, welcome home

The first look, the first touch. It is probably the most important moment to make an impression.

At home, everything starts at your doorstep. Warm welcomes, long-awaited reunions or unexpected goodbyes, Adelante is here for you and ready to receive your guests.

Saying welcome has never been that refined!

Adelante is our luxury door phone for your intelligent home.

We now bring our sophisticated design from inside your home to your front door.

Adelante combines cutting-edge technology with a sleek modular design, perfectly integrated into your Basalte Home.

your door phone, exactly the way you want

Adelante has a modular design with each option at your fingertips.

Everything is built around a gorgeous full HD touch display, which you can enhance to your wishes with a wide-angle camera, access control features and so much more.

mix & match

Your home should be as personal as possible. Mix, match and choose the combination that fits your needs and style.

Gain secure access to your home by entering your unique, personal code.

Simply swipe your personal badge for quick access with our secured RFID keycard reader.

Open doors with your smartphone using the integrated NFC mobile access both on iOS and Android.

The back-lit house number exists in two versions, with or without an integrated keycard reader.

Use multiple modules for numbers with more than 2 digits.

Enter your home using our fingerprint module. This feature allows you to open doors at the slightest touch.

unlocking true piece of mind

Feel safe and secure by managing access permissions and tracking entries. Stay in control of who can enter your home and at what times using our simple access control portal.

No need to worry when you forget your keys or that your family can't enter to prepare everything for the party tonight.

knock, knock, who's there

Adelante has multiple cameras to give you the best possible experience.

Ring the doorbell and you will see yourself on the screen thanks to our facetime camera. Time to put on your brightest smile and get into the perfect position.

The person who answers the call, can choose to show themselves or not.

feel safe

With our wide-angle camera, you can keep an eye on the broader surroundings. Unlock true piece of mind and view everything at a glance on our Lena display inside your home.

view everything, at a glance

Our Adelante door phone seamlessly communicates with our Lisa, Ellie and Lena touch displays inside your home.

See who's at your doorstep, talk to them and decide to let them in at the slightest touch. All pieces come together beautifully!

On our Lena touch display, you also have a clear overview of the broader surroundings. Keep an eye on everything and safeguard the people around you.

our story

Basalte was founded in 2008 with a mission to unite beautiful design and intuitive smart home technology. A unique combination that remains a fundamental part of our DNA. We want to keep things simple and elegant, both in form and function.

Our multifunctional design keypads, refined speakers and elegant iPad mounts can be found in the most luxurious projects all over the world. Pushing towards the limits of perfection, we strive to reshape the way people live by making everyday actions easier and bringing true comfort to your home.

All products are meticulously designed and handmade with love in Belgium.

solid as a rock

Beautiful and natural on the outside.
Solid, strong and multi-layered on the inside.

Like the rock from which Basalte takes its name, we are determined to create timeless products of outstanding durability. Reduced to its essence, what remains is pure elegance.

passion, dedication and true craftsmanship

Our products embody a timeless commitment to quality, handmade with passion, dedication and true craftsmanship.

With Basalte, you choose a piece of art, a symbol of excellence and a reminder that there are still artisans who dare to dream, create and inspire.
