“South Jersey Needs a Leader – Not a Boss”

(MAY 17, 2018 - TURNERSVILLE, NJ) – Paul Dilks, former radio personality on “The Big Talker 1210”, “WNJC 1360”, “WWDB 860”, and “920 The Voice”, proudly announces run for New Jersey's 1st Congressional District and looks forward to serving the people of South Jersey. The “Paul Dilks for Congress” campaign for New Jersey’s 1st Congressional District – seat currently held by Democrat Donald Norcross since November 12, 2014 - has been endorsed by the Republican Party County Chairs in Camden, Gloucester and Burlington Counties, among many others. Dilks is a long-time resident of Washington Township and looks forward to a plan of more aggressive growth and success for South Jersey.

Dilks has spent time speaking with people in the 1st District which includes 36 municipalities in Camden County, 14 municipalities in Gloucester County and 2 municipalities in Burlington County - where residents have continually complained about annual increases in property taxes, the aging infrastructure, public school systems that do not teach civics, manufacturing technology, or engineering sciences, and small businesses that find it impossible to do business in New Jersey. Dilks further notes that, “many residents in South Jersey have become disgruntled with the ‘Norcross machine’”.

The next stop for the “Paul Dilks for Congress” campaign is a “Meet & Greet” that will be held Saturday, May 19, 2018 at Bob’s Little Sport Shop, located at 316 Delsea Drive North, Glassboro, New Jersey 08028. Dilks will be talking about his aggressive economic growth and development plan for South Jersey, his sensible stance on immigration, his community and faith-based vision, and his strong support of the second amendment. South Jersey residents are encouraged to stop by and “Meet & Greet” Paul Dilks and learn more about the “Paul Dilks for Congress” platform for change to the current political environment in South Jersey.
