History of the Friends

Founded in 1965, The Friends of the Temple Public Library is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization that supports the Library by enhancing its resources, encouraging literacy, increasing access to information and knowledge, and influencing the love of reading in the community.

For almost 30 years, the Friends' used book sales have been its major fundraising events with more than half a million dollars netted to support the Library.

Temple Public Library Used Book Sale Facts

- Bi-annual events in late February and the week before Labor Day.
- 90,000 books are presorted into over 95 categories and displayed in the McLane Room on the Library's 3rd floor.
- Book donations make the sale possible and account for 100% of the inventory.
- Donations are accepted year-round and can be dropped off at the Library Circulation Desk.
- Most books are $1 to $2, while some children's books and media are less.
- Members of the Friends are invited to a Special Sale Preview the day before the public sale opens.

Volunteers are always needed to work the sale. To volunteer, e-mail the Friends at friendsoftemplelibrary@gmail.com
