About Us:

Molly Filippini, MA, CC-SLP is a bilingual speech-language therapist. She has years of experience working with children in both individual and group settings, supporting speech and language development as well as reciprocal communication. Movement and play are the foundation of her therapeutic approach and integrated into every session. She has found group therapy to be motivating for both herself and her clients.

Erin Boodey, MS, OTR/L has been an Occupational Therapist for 20 years. She is the author of Work Your Body, Grow Your Brain and has experience working with kids of all ages with various levels of day-to-day difficulties in life. She is excited to resume working in a group as she has found the integration of speech and movement to provide outstanding results. Her passion to provide a positive and safe learning environment is her priority.
