Owen Davidson:

Hockey for me has always been a part of my life. My father asked me if I wanted to play when I was three and from then on I have always been on the ice. Playing hockey growing up with all of my friends and family really made me fall in love with the sport. As I grew up I moved on to play high school hockey for my local town's co-op. During that time, I matured as a person and the sport became something even more personal. Those 4 am practices and late bus rides back from away games created memories that will last me a lifetime. I chose to move into junior hockey because I felt that my career wasn't over. I knew I still had more to give and I wasn't ready to give up the love of the game. I spent my first year of junior hockey in Lewiston, Maine. I ended up playing against the Bridgewater Bandits multiple times that season. It was the first time I met Coach Drevitch and the first experience I had in Bridgewater. Coming into this season deciding which team to play for was a hard decision. I knew Bridgewater would be a place where I could work hard and prove myself. I knew I could grow as a person and a player. I knew Coach Drevitch would work hard to get me to the next level. I still love the game and playing in Bridgewater has been one of the most positive experiences during my hockey career. I am excited to see where the season takes us and I know that the team can achieve something great this year. I can't thank the Cam Canterbury Hockey Fund enough. They have given me an opportunity to keep doing what I love.
