

Lawmakers advanced legislation through committees and on the House and Senate floors. There are a total of 683 bills on notice this week in committees, compared to last week's calendar of 912. Some committees have shut down for the year and most others are working through final calendars. The administration will release their amendment to the budget on Tuesday. This gives the Governor the opportunity to make changes to his proposed budget based off recent revenue collections and feedback from the General Assembly during budget hearings. Following the release of the Governor's amendment, the legislature will begin to develop their budget negotiations to finalize the state's 2024-2025 budget. The General Assembly is still on a timeline to adjourn in mid-April.

New reports released this week showed that the state's general fund revenues have fallen short by $441 million through the first seven months of the budget year. Corporate franchise and excise taxes have missed estimates by $236 million, while sales taxes have come in at $116 million below projections. On Monday, the House approved legislation to protect Tennesseans from discrimination by financial institutions for their personal beliefs. House Bill 2100, sponsored by State Rep. Jason Zachary, R-Knoxville, would prohibit financial institutions and insurers from discriminating, denying or canceling services to Tennesseans based on political opinions, religious beliefs, social credit scores and other factors. The practice is commonly referred to as "debanking." The companion version of the bill is still advancing in the Senate. If approved, House Bill 2100 would take effect July 1.

Amendment Summary	determines the apportionment of a taxpayer's net worth. Senate Finance Revenue Subcommittee amendment 1 (015050) establishes a franchise tax limitation credit in the amount of the difference between the Total National Franchise Tax (TNFT) and the Allowable National Franchise Tax (ANFT) to ensure that a taxpayer does not pay franchise taxes that subject the taxpayer to taxation on more than 100 percent of either the taxpayer's net worth or the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property. Establishes that if a taxpayer receives a final court decree determining the franchise tax established through the Franchise Tax Law of 1999, for a tax year ending prior to January 1, 2024, violates the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution by subjecting the taxpayer to multiple taxation, the sole remedy for the taxpayer is the issuance of a tax limitation credit for that tax year.

SB2027/HB2110 Clarification of "work."

Sponsors Sen. Reeves, Shane; Rep. Boyd, Clark

Category Labor Law

Summary For purposes of this bill, "work" has the same meaning as interpreted by the U.S. Supreme Court in relation to the Fair Labor Standards Act. The U.S. Supreme Court has held that "work," broadly, means services rendered for which remuneration is owed. "Work" includes all time that an employee is required to be on the employer's premises, on duty, or at a prescribed workplace. For example, time spent at a workplace putting on or removing work-related gear qualifies as "work." This bill provides that "work" does not include the time an employee spends on the following: (1) Walking, riding, or traveling to and from the actual place of performance of the principal activity or activities that the employee is employed to perform; (2) Activities that are preliminary to or postliminary to the principal activity; or (3) Activities that require insubstantial or insignificant periods of time beyond the employee's scheduled working hours. This bill prohibits an employee from joining as a party plaintiff in any civil action brought under this bill by an employee, person acting on behalf of an employee, or person acting on behalf of all similarly situated employees unless that employee first gives written consent to become such a party plaintiff and that consent is filed with the court in which the action is brought. This bill establishes a statute of limitations of two years for filing any such action.

Amendment Summary House amendment 1 (013622) removes the following provisions from the bill: (1) The two-year statute of limitations; and (2) The prohibition on an employee joining as a party plaintiff in a civil action that is brought under state human rights law by an employee, person acting on behalf of an employee, or person acting on behalf of all similarly situated employees unless that employee first gives written consent to become such a party plaintiff and that consent is filed with the court in which the action is brought.
