AATCC has won yet another Tabbie award for an in-depth feature article, published in the November / December 2014 issue of AATCC Review, written by feature writer Glenna Musante.

The annual Tabbie Awards are sponsored by Trade Association Business Publications International (TABPI). More than 400 editorial and design entries were submitted for the 2015 contest, with nominations coming from the US, Canada, UK, Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, United Arab Emirates, and South Africa.

“Mopping Up Disasters: Textiles Protect People and the Planet” was a “top ten” award winner, and represents the Association’s 17th award for writing or publication design.

As well as publishing original features on major topics of interest to professionals in the textile, apparel, and related industries, AATCC Review also contains technical articles, and AATCC news and information. Launched in January 2014, the AATCC Journal of Research, a sister publication, is exclusively for peer-reviewed research papers.
